GERBES MURDER MANHUNT EXTENDED

NO FALL TERM FOR CONGRESS SEEN NEEDED

Sen. Vandenberg Says G.O.P. Chiefs, Truman Think Session Unnecessary.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 14—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) said today President Truman and leaders of the Republican congress have agreed that no special session of congress need be held this fall.

After a conference of the congressional "big six" with Mr. Truman, Vandenberg told reporters:

1. Mr. Truman gave his personal assurance he would not hold up his tax reduction bill veto message, in order "not to interfere in any way with the adjournment schedule" of congress on July 26.

2. The group agreed it would be "all but impossible" to get legislation this session admitting some 400,000 of Europe's displaced persons to the United States as Mr. Truman has requested.

3. If a plan for European reconstruction emerges from the current Paris conference on the Marshall plan the senate foreign relations committee, headed by Vandenberg, "May be called back late in the year."

The committee would be expected to develop legislation in readiness for quick congressional action when congress reassembles in January, Vandenberg said.

Confirms Barkley Statement

The Michigan senator said President Truman confirmed the statement made by Senator Barkley (D-Ky) Saturday night that Mr. Truman would not hold his tax bill message the full 10 days allowed after passage of the measure expectedly in the senate.

If he did so, congressional leaders have pointed out, it might be impossible to obtain a vote to override or sustain the veto without extending the congressional term. The President is given 10 days to consider a bill before acting on it.

"We also discussed the possibility of an extra session this fall," Vandenberg reported.

"It was our view that no such session is contemplated, although of course the President would have to reserve the right to meet an unexpected necessity."

Gives Pat on Back

The senate leader said Mr. Truman told the group of his appreciation of the usefulness of the frequent conferences with senate and house leaders. The group included top lawmakers of both parties.

"Mr. Truman pointed out that 20 of the 26 priority requests made of us in connection with legislation already have been fully met, with at least one more on the way," Vandenberg said.

The senator observed that he did not know which measure the President meant was "on the way" but said it might have been the proposal to boost the national minimum wage from 40 to 60 the Republican leadership is now ...ents an hour ...a program which passing.

"The President brought up the urgency of the problem of displaced persons," Vandenberg went on. "It was mutually agreed that this is a situation which requires constant attention by congress.

21 Perish In Plane Crackup

2 of 13 Injured Feared Likely To Die from Florida Accident.

By The Associated Press

MELBOURNE, Fla., July 14—Twenty-one persons were killed yesterday in the crash of a DC-3 chartered airliner in swampy wastelands near here, and today 12 remained unidentified mainly because of a confusion in Spanish names.

The death toll was expected to mount with two of the 13 injured on the "critical" list.

The plane, en route from Newark, N. J., to Miami with 36 persons aboard—a crew of five and 31 home-bound Puerto Ricans—cut a 300-foot swath through the scrub pine six miles from this Florida east coast town as it ploughed to earth shortly after 4:30 a. m. (EST), Sunday.

No Comment on Wreck

Civil aeronautics authority investigators reached the scene early but would not comment on their findings.

The plane had last been heard from as it passed over Jacksonville, Fla., after leaving Augusta Ga.

Similarity in the Spanish names of the Puerto Ricans, a number of whom were young children carried in the arms of parents and not listed as passengers, and the inability of the survivors to speak English, hampered identification of the dead.

Two children escaped injury One was a boy, Jose Rodriguiz, 3, whose mother, Pura Rodriguiz, is not expected live. She has 12 broken bones. The other child was Ellen Acevdo. 5.

Besides Pura Rodriguiz, the other passenger on the critical list is Carmen Rodriguiz who has a broken back.

Pilot Killed

Among the dead were the pilot, Capt. Henry Hein, 36, of Houston, Tex., the co-pilot Roderick Paul Mac Kinnon, formerly of Rochester, N. Y., and his wife who was signed on as a member of the crew.

First rescue workers to plough through the knee-deep water reported the injured and dead tangled inside and out of the craft. One survivor was reported found 300 feet from the wreckage, 10 feet up a tree and hugging the trunk.

Frank Gonzalez, 12, whose left leg was broken, told reporters "it was dark and we were flying along and the motor stopped. Everything was quiet. We slowed down. The next minute we crashed."

Flight Engineer Wallace Irwin who was supposed to have joined the flight crew at Augusta, Ga., was reported to have overslept, and missed the trip.

The plane was owned by the Burke Air Lines of Miami and was licensed to carry 25 passengers and a crew of three.

Crestline Rail Worker's Injury Award Upheld

CINCINNATI, July 14—A $14,000 judgment given George Roth, Crestline, O., crane operator, in his personal injury suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., was upheld today by the Sixth U. S. circuit court of appeals.

Roth was awarded the amount in district court at Cleveland for injuries suffered Aug. 21, 1945 while working in the railroad's storage yards at Crestline.

States Should Reclaim Duties, Ohio's Herbert Tells Governors

By The Associated Press

SALT LAKE CITY, July 14—Gov. Thomas J. Herbert of Ohio, asserting that the time had come for state governments to reclaim many duties and responsibilities turned over to the federal government during the war, called upon the 39th governor's conference here to request federal withdrawal from control of state unemployment compensation bureaus.

In a speech prepared for delivery during opening conference sessions, Herbert contended that the federal unemployment tax act made no provision for returning the "excess of collections over administrative grants to the various states, or for reducing the taxpayers' burden."

He said that in 10 years since July 1, 1936 Ohio Employers paid approximately $83,000,000 under the federal tax, but federal grants for administration of the state's unemployment compensation and employment service programs were "only $40,000,000."

$43,000,000 To The Bad

"As a result," he said, "there has been an excess of $43,000,000 in federal tax collections from Ohio over federal grants to Ohio for administrative purposes."

Herbert asserted that in 15 states administrative expenses were greater than the amount collected for the federal government under the tax, but added that social security board figures showed 33 states collecting more money under the tax for the national government than it cost to operate their own unemployment compensation programs.

"Ohio's 'percentage-return,'" he declared, "was smaller than that of any other state. I, for one, no longer consider federal supervision of this state activity necessary or economical."

Herbert reminded the conference that the states faced a long fight to recover sole control of unemployment compensation and employment services. He pointed to the state employment services that were relinquished to the government in 1942 but returned only after "three years of strenuous battling."

The Buckeye governor said that he opposed unlimited centralization of taxing power in the federal government" because ever-increasing subsidies to states and local governments in the end would "destroy local responsibility which is the foundation of our American system of self-government."

Sees 6 Challenges

Herbert said many challenges faced state governments in the postwar reconstruction period and suggested they could best meet their problems by:

1. Putting and keeping their financial houses in order.

2. Streamlining and improving their administrative machinery for effective and economic administration.

3. Modernizing and improving their legislative processes and procedures.

4. Reappraising the relationship between themselves and their political subdivisions, seeking in every way to invigorate local government by abandoning certain tax fields to them.

5. Actively supporting every measure or program designed to focus responsibility for public services on state and local government.

6. Doing all possible to recreate, revitalize and re-emphasize increased public interest and participation in government affairs.

TO TEST SANITY OF ASSAILANT

Examination Ordered for Man Who Fired Twice at Sen. Bricker.

(Pictures on Page 3)

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 14 — Municipal Judge Allen K. Raedy today ordered a mental examination for William L. Kaiser, former capitol policeman charged with firing two shots Saturday at Senator Bricker (R-Ohio).

Assistant United States Attorney John B. Diamond asked for the examination.

Kaiser is to be held without bond. The examination will be given at Gallinger hospital here. Judge Raedy directed that the findings be brought to the court at a hearing on Aug. 14.

Faces Two Counts

Diamond disclosed that Kaiser now faces two separate charges in connection with the shooting which occurred in the senate subway. One is assault with intent to kill, the other carrying a deadly weapon.

Kaiser lost his patronage job last April after 18 months on the uniformed capitol force.

Bricker—target of two .22 caliber pistol shots that missed—did not appear at today's brief hearing. He previously told a reporter he would not be present.

Kaiser appeared dazed and wan when he was led into court for his appearance before Judge Raedy. The session lasted less than a minute. Kaiser stumbled a little as a policeman took him out of the room.

Charge Is Felony

Assault with intent to kill is a felony. To prosecute this charge requires an indictment by a grand jury. The maximum penalty is 15 years.

TRUMAN ASKS DELAY IN HIKE FOR PRICES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 14—President Truman appealed to coal and steel producers today to wait until "a fair test" has been made of the effects of the coal wage settlement before making any price increases.

The President, in a statement, said the effect of the wage settlement "is badly misrepresented by the bare statement that it amounts to an increase of about 45 cents per hour in the wages of miners."

"It is only reasonable to ask coal and steel producers to wait until a fair test has been made of the actual effects of the wage advance under conditions of maximum production," the President asserted.

"If prices are raised at once, and a wave of increases in related prices upsets our economy, we never will know what would have happened if the coal and steel managers had been willing to wait.

"The risk involved by continuing present prices of coal and steel long enough to learn what the increased costs of production will actually be under the new wage agreement is not serious, especially in view of the fact that such action will greatly reduce the hazards of renewed inflation.

Saying the producers of coal and steel "have been enjoying their full share of high profits," he concluded:

"I am sure that they, as responsible leaders of industry, will want to invest a portion of those profits in the maintenance of business stability and prosperity for all our people."

The President spoke of "deep concern" being expressed in many quarters over the results of the recent settlement between John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and the coal operators. He mentioned widespread fear that it might lead to substantial increases in coal and commodity prices as well, resulting in renewing "the inflationary spiral."

"This would be a serious blow to our economy and to the continuance of the present high level of production and employment."

Sergeants in Court Over Atomic Theft

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, July 14—Two former U. S. Army sergeants accused of taking secret records from the Los Alamos, N. M. atomic bomb project were given preliminary hearings today before U. S. commissioners in Pittsburgh and Chicago.

Alexander Von de Luft, 23, of suburban Mt. Lebanon, was freed on $10,000 bond by Commissioner Roger Knox, who said a date for a further hearing would be set after arrival of a certified copy of the record from New Mexico.

The husky, bespectabled former staff sergeant left the courtroom with his father without making any statement. His attorney, Ralph D. McKee, said: "I have known this boy's father all my life. The boy has a good service record and I know he didn't mean any harm whatever." Von de Luft's parents also have expressed confidence, saying their son was a victim of his love of souvenirs.

At Chicago, Ernest D. Wallis, 34, also was given a hearing on a charge of wilfully and unlawfully removing and concealing records and documents. A similar bond was set in his case. The sum of $10,000 had been recommended by the justice department.

DUTCH MAKE BID FOR REICH

Say Western Germany Must Be Included in Marshall Plan Alignment.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, July 14—Dutch sources at the Paris economic conference indicated today that the lowlands would advocate prompt inclusion of western Germany in the Marshall plan for European recovery.

A Dutch spokesman said western Germany inevitably must be added to the 16-nation organization, embracing all western Europe except Spain and excluding Russia and eight eastern nations under her influence. One of the first consequences of including western Germany, the spokesman suggested, would be a merger of the French with the combined American - British occupation zones.

The conference rules committee set a meeting for 2:30 p. m. expecting to complete its work for a plenary session at 4 p. m. Tuesday.

To Request Statement

The Dutch informant said representatives of Benelux — the Belgian, Netherlands and Luxembourg customs union—would ask for a general statement defining the lines along which the conference will work, including clarification of economic policy toward Germany, before starting any detail work.

The conference voted yesterday to request commanders in chief of all four German occupation zones, including the Russian, to supply statistics needed for any integrated recovery plan. (European economy for generations has been dependant on the coal and heavy industries of western Germany.)

Swedish spokesman at the conference showed considerable interest in an article in Izvestia, the official government organ, asserting that "American capital penetrating Sweden is not limiting itself to industry and trade, but is extending itself to the questions of Sweden's political organization." The Swedes did not comment. Perhaps mindful of the Izvestia article, those Swedes who talked reiterated that Swedish participation in the conference was strictly on an economic and financial plane.

Interest Evident

Russian interest in the conference was evident, despite the Kremlin's displeasure. Russian Ambassador Alexandre Bogomolov made an unexplained call on Italian Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza, chief of the Italian delegation.

Italy remains under direction of the Allied control council, which includes Russia, the only ally which has not ratified the Italian peace treaty.

Greeks Say Guerrilla Attack Force Repulsed

By The Associated Press

ATHENS, July 14—Greek officials reported today a 1,000-man force which attacked the village of Konitsa yesterday had been pushed back to the Albanian border, six miles away.

The Guerrilla ring around Konitsa apparently was broken during the night. Greek veterans of resistance fighting during the German occupation under Gen. Napoleon Zervas were engaging the rebels.

One official report said fighting still was in progress at a tiny, unidentified village about two miles from the Albanian frontier.

Government forces were reported officially to have recaptured the Greek half of the Saranta river bridge at Bgzani

Hundreds Call At Home To View Body Of Slain Woman

An estimated 800 to 1,000 persons visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kellis, 406 Lee street, between Saturday noon, when the body of Mrs. Zora Hess Gerbes, 23, churchyard murder victim, was removed to the home of the stepfather and mother from the Edwin K. Smith Home for Funerals, and noon today.

At the Kellis home it was reported that the more than 800 persons viewing the body were mostly friends of the family and neighbors with an intermingling of curiosity seekers.

Mrs. Gerbes body lay in the front room of the home where she lived with her three small children since her divorce from Kenneth Gerbes a few years ago.

She was dressed in a light blue crepe dress with a white lace insert at the neck. The coffin, polished oak lined with shirred beige velvet, was surrounded with numerous sprays and baskets of flowers sent by relatives and friends of Mrs. Gerbes and the family. A corsage of red rosebuds and baby-breath was sent by Mr. Gerbes. A lavender orchid, sent by a close family friend, was also placed next to the body. The lower half of the coffin was closed, the open half covered with sheer lavender net.

Mrs. Kellis said the persons who could be termed "thrill seekers" called mostly during Saturday afternoon and occassionally yesterday, but the majority of the people were friends both of the murdered woman and of the family. She stated that five registers listing the names of callers had been filled before noon today.

The children, one son, Kenneth Lee, 6, and two daughters, Diana Frances, 4 and Judith Kay, 2, were in the home most of the time after their mother's body was brought to the Lee street address. All are too young, Mrs. Kellis said, to realize what had

Feud Scene Staged Near Trailer Home Of Murder Suspect

What city police termed a neighborhood feud of long standing flared anew yesterday afternoon as Mrs. Lillian Young, crippled wife of Edwin D. Young, sought in the murder of Mrs. Zora Gerbes, and her four-year-old son Clifford were preparing to leave their Midlam avenue trailer home.

According to the police report one neighbor woman accused another of taking an article from the Young trailer. Husbands of the two women soon joined in the ensuing fight.

A third neighbor called police, who soon had the situation under control. Peace was not restored, however, until one of the men, who arrived at the scene barefooted, threatened to get a shotgun.

Although in no way involved, police said, witnesses to the ruckus were Mrs. Young, her son, Herman Walton, her father, and her brother. The father and brother had come here from their New Philadelphia home to take Mrs. Young and the boy there. The police were called at 12:55 p. m. Mrs. Young and the Waltons left shortly afterward.

No arrests were made.

SEE FIGHTING CHANCE TO UPSET TAX BILL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 14—Senator McClellan (D-Ark) claimed a "fighting chance" today to upset Republican plans to speed the $4,000,000,000 tax cut bill to the White House by nightfall.

McClellan, who opposed the original reduction measure on its futile first trip through the senate last month, is pinning his hopes on a so-called community property amendment.

His strategy is to try first to block final passage in the senate and then, if that fails, to stir up a house fight that might nullify any prospect of the bill's being written into law over President Truman's proposed second veto.

"50-50 Chance"

"I say we've got a fighting chance," McClellan told a reporter in advance of today's debate "I know I have a minimum of 37 votes for my amendment and I hope to pick up enough more to send the bill back to the house. It's close to a fifty-fifty chance."

But Republican Senators Millikin (Colo), Taft (Ohio) and Wherry (Neb)—who forced the senate to grind away for nearly 10 hours Saturday without getting a final vote—confidently insisted that all they asked was a chance to call the roll today.

Although they lacked any ironclad agreement for final senate

Ohio Picks Taft As Favorite In 1948 White House Sweepstake

By The United Press

SALT LAKE CITY, July 14—Ohio will be for Sen. Robert A. Taft for the Republican presidential nomination in 1948, the 39th annual governor's conference here was told today as a move popped up to slow down Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's, New York drive for support.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert of Ohio made the announcement of the state's choice.

"Ohio will be for Senator Robert Taft," the Republican governor said. "He has been agreed upon as our favorite son."

Taft and Sen. John W. Bricker, his junior colleague, reached an agreement on the Ohio delegation last winter. It was then decided that Bricker, 1944 vice presidential candidate, would step aside in Taft's favor, Herbert said.

Bricker Word Delayed

The word might have been taken to the governor's conference by Senator Bricker if he had not been required to remain in Washington to appear in court against a 49-year-old former capitol policeman who fired two shots at him Saturday.

Bricker was originally scheduled to be at the conference as the representative of Taft. He was asked to look around and sample the support which the various presidential hopefuls were gathering.

An announcement that the junior senator and 1944 vice presidential nominee on the Republican ticket would step aside in favor of Taft was delayed because Taft wished to finish the present session of congress before tossing his hat in the ring.

Bricker also has shown some reluctance to step entirely out of the picture. Many persons believe that in doing so he placed himself in a position favorable to his nomination as a compromise candidate if the presidential convention is deadlocked.

Rally in July

A statewide Republican rally on July 30 and July 31 in Columbus may be the next move in the presidential campaign of Taft.

State Chairman Fred H. Johnson announced the meeting would be held to honor Taft, wheelhorse and guiding hand of congress on domestic matters including controversial labor legislation, under the auspices of the state central and executive committee.

Also honored at the meeting will be Bricker and Herbert.

Taft's speech, honored, will be delivered over a national radio hookup, according to tentative plans. This prospect immediately aroused speculation on whether the meeting would support the Taft candidacy in Ohio and the nation.

Not to be outdone by Dewey's

SEARCH UNDER WAY FOR YOUNG IN FOUR STATES

Sheriff Gets Various Clues and Leads but All Prove False.

A four-state manhunt was in progress today for Edwin D. Young, 39, wanted here on a warrant charging he murdered Mrs. Zora Hess Gerbes, 23, divorced mother of three children.

With only a few false leads turning up from the statewide search for the missing man, Sheriff LeRoy Retterer extended the search to New York, Pennsylvania and Kentucky through the state police of these states.

Kentucky and Pennsylvania were brought into the hunt on information provided Retterer by Sheriff John McIntosh of Tuscarawas county. McIntosh said he had been told by Mrs. Young's relatives in New Philadelphia that when in trouble Young sometimes hid out there with friends made while he served prison sentences in the Mansfield reformatory and the Ohio penitentiary.

New York entered the picture when state police from Sidney in that state asked the sheriff to provide them with pictures and fingerprints of Young. The sheriff was not informed as to the reason for the New York request. The information requested is to be forwarded from the bureau of identification at the London prison farm.

Family Leaves

In the meantime Mrs. Lillian Young, 40, crippled wife of the hunted man, and their four-year-old son Clifford have left their Midlam avenue trailer home. They were returned to New Philadelphia yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Young's father, Herman Walton.

Walton and a son drove here yesterday to get his daughter and grandson, since a foot deformity makes her almost helpless. She is confined to a wheel chair. Neighbor women had looked after her since Young was last seen at the home Thursday afternoon.

Sheriff Retterer reported Walton said the family would cooperate in any way in the hunt for Young. He was quoted by Retterer as expressing fear for the safety of Mrs. Young, but he did not elaborate on the point.

Sheriff McIntosh yesterday added another bit of information regarding Young's record in his home town of New Philadelphia from where he was sent to prison twice on 1 to 20-year sentences for auto larceny and forgery. McIntosh said he last had Young in custody several months ago when he took him into court to arrange for support payments for an illegitimate child in Tuscarawas county.

Victim In Good Health

Although Dr. E. H. Morgan, county coroner, has not filed his full report of an autopsy performed on Mrs. Gerbes, he amplified his original statement today by saying the examination revealed the slain woman was in good health at the time of her death. The autopsy was conducted Friday at the Smith Home for Funerals by Dr. Morgan and Dr. Frederick T. Merchant, former coroner.

The coroner ruled death was due to strangulation from a cotton clothesline wrapped three times around her neck and pulled tight through a slip knot. The cord then was placed around her legs and again pulled tight until the knees nearly touched the chin.

Distortion of her facial features due to the tightness of the rope made it impossible to identify the victim as she lay trussed up on the gravel driveway of St. Paul's Lutheran church on route 98 where she was found shortly after 2 a. m. Friday.

Recognized by Officers

It was not until she had been brought to the funeral home under better light that she was recognized by officers. Both the sheriff and police officers knew her by sight from her previous appearances in court here.

Identification was made positive when her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kellis, were called to the funeral home. Mrs. Gerbes, with her three children, lived at the Kellis home at 406 Lee street.

Apparently the last persons to see the slayer were Charles and Harry Yeager, brothers, who live a mile east of the church. They talked with him a few minutes before leaving to call Sheriff Retterer, not knowing they were at the scene of a murder.

Time To Get Away

That Young might have slipped over the state border is considered a distinct possibility by Sheriff Retterer. The slayer had better than a three hour start from the time he was surprised in the churchyard until the alarm

Cuspidors Out in East but West Loves Them

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK—West Coast leaves from a transcontinental notebook

The cuspidor, man's best underfoot friend, may be on the wane in the rest of America, but it has many stout defenders in the far west, where the tradition of masculine rights is still cherished.

One champion of the cuspidor is Paul C. Smith, the stocky young red-haired general manager of the San Francisco Chronicle.

Hal Boyle

Smith believes the real future of the cuspidor lies in the field of decorative living room art rather than in its present function as floor furniture. He owns three. One, a flowing bell topped model, he keeps in his office—at the usual altitude

Makes Lamps of Others

"The other two I turned into table lamps at home," he said. "They make beautiful lamps. They've the grace of a Grecian urn."

Cautious housewives, who find no possible use for cuspidors except as daring flowerpots, may question the sureness of this unmarried journalist's taste. They wouldn't if they saw his home on Telegraph Hill overlooking San Francisco bay. It's one of the most distinctive on the west coast.

Employing cuspidors for table lamps isn't at all unorthodox for Smith, a freckle-faced editor who at 39 is still one of the nation's youngest major newspaper executives—a distinction he's enjoyed for 10 years. The only thing commonplace about him is his last name.

He went into the navy as a lieutenant commander during the war, then resigned so he could dive into the Marines as an enlisted man. He got what he wanted, a closeup of Pacific fighting.

He was near enough for the Japs to snipe at his freckles and came back with a Silver Star bought in battle by bravery.

Cremation Burning Out

Cremation is losing popularity in the Los Angeles area.

It rose in fashion a few years ago to a point where 21 per cent of the interments at Forst Lawn Memorial Park in Glendale were of this nature.

Now only seventeen per cent of the clients of this widely known cemetery — a favorite with the movie colony—arrange to be converted into ashes. As for the rest:

"Five per cent are entombed in crypts," said a Forest Lawn representative, "68 per cent are ground burials, and the other 10 per cent are remains we forward to other cemeteries throughout the country for burial."

In Hollywood a writer told me a story to illustrate the transitory nature of film riches among the bigwigs there.

A number of years ago a group of actors and executives in the $1,000-a-week and up bracket were talking confidently over the bright future before them.

"Well, I would settle for $100 a week guaranteed for life," said Ronald Colman. "No matter how much the value of money changes, I could get by on that, either here or in England."

Today, the writer said, Colman is the only one of the group still alive who has any real money.

"Moron's Delight"

One of the horrors of the current boom around Los Angeles is an inflation-born product called, "The Moron's Delight," a giant.

The others laughed at him as a.

This soda fountain opus is to the teen-age male and boobysox trade what the rum "zombie" drink is to their elders. After imbibing one, the juvenile Croesus pockets empty, staggers home in an ice cream stupor, smelling of walnuts, pineapple, chocolate and marshmallow—and anything else the man had in the syrup pumps.

I turned down a young friend's invitation to surround a "Moron's Delight"—because I could locate no person over 35 years of age who had survived a bout with one.

5 Pairs of Brothers Prepare For Wednesday Soapbox Derby

Variety in design no argument about it, and some secrets are prevalent in stories from five sets of brothers who are entered in the Soapbox Derby to be held here Wednesday.

Brotners who will compete in the race are: Leonard and Lowell Schlecht of 416 West Columbia street, John and William Jones of 467 Pearl street, Raymond and William Winters of 154 Spencer street, Jack and Richard Peak of 202 Reed avenue and Jack and Jerry Wensinger of King and Concord avenues.

The Wensinger boys are the only pair entered in the same age group. They are both in the senior class.

Reports from hardware stores and junk yards reveal that the boys have completely cleaned them out of turnbuckles, hinges, springs and old steering wheels.

Use Different Plans

The Schlecht boys have used different plans. Lowell's race will be aluminum and needs only a few finishing touches. Leonard is using wood and aluminum covering. His car still needs considerable work since he was handicapped by a recent illness.

The Jones brothers have used similar designs the only exception is in the size. John is using a smaller car. Both cars are almost finished needing only to have the oil cloth covering and paint applied.

Trial runs have been made by the Winters brothers with each boy expressing surprise at the speed they attained on a stretch in front of their home. Their racers are complete except for the lettering on the body. The cars are identical in design but will be painted different colors.

Solves Weight Problem

A question of weight comes into the picture with Jack Peak. He plans to use airplane cord for the covering roping to keep the total combined weight of himself and the car under the 250-pound limit. Jack himself scores 140 pounds, thus making the lighter covering a necessity. Richard is using an aluminum covering for his racer. Both machines are nearing completion.

The information about the Wensinger boys came from their nine-year-old sister a definite derby enthusiast. She said both cars were almost finished with only the lettering to be applied. Jerry has built his at home, but Jack has constructed his mac at the garage of his sponso secrecy.

In your water plant the technicians and operators constantly work together to assure you of a water supply which is absolutely free of harmful germs.

This protection to you and your children has helped make the dread words "typhoid epidemic" a thing of the past.

Newark Convict Escapee Found in Indiana Prison

By The Associated Press

LONDON, O., July 14—London prison farm officials reported today that a Columbus, O., inmate who fled Friday was still at large, but that a Newark, O., inmate sought since Sept. 3, 1943, has been admitted to the Indiana state prison.

Supt. W. F. Amrine said Orville Shilling, 49, admitted to Ohio penitentiary May 29, 1939, from Columbus to serve a life sentence on a statutory charge involving his small daughter, had been missing from the prison farm since Friday.

Howard McInturf, 35, formerly of Newark was recently admitted to the Indiana prison to serve one to five years on a charge of issuing fraudulent checks in Indiana, Amrine said he was advised. McInturf was admitted to Ohio penitentiary March 19, 1943, to serve one to three years for obtaining money by false pretense and issuing checks without funds.

GUEST PREACHER FILLS CENTRAL CHURCH PULPIT

Sermon Given by Ray W. Bosh Who Will Study for Ministry.

Ray W. Bosh, a member of Central Christian church was guest preacher yesterday giving his first serman at the morning service. The church was filled to capacity including visitors from out of town.

For his topic, Mr. Bosh chose "Future for Christianity" taking his sermon from the second verse, tenth chapter of Luke "the harvest truly is great but the laborers are few."

He divided his sermon into four parts, giving examples from each of these phases, international, national, local and individual.

For the international, Mr. Bosh said there was a great deal of greed, lust, political intrigue and economic unrest which could be diverted if the various peoples of the world practiced Christianity. He stated in keeping with the national theme that most important sessions opened with invoking God's blessing, then He was promptly forgotten when the business was underway and it was "dog eat dog." Locally, Mr. Bosh said bars could be seen on every street downtown and these should abolished if Christianity was to live in the future. In talking about the individual, he said most people shrugged off individual duty in practising Christianity by saying "let George do it." He continued by saying it is O.K. for George to do it ,but George will get to heaven and we won't."

Mr. Bosh, a former member of the armed forces hopes to enter Hiram college, near Cleveland, this fall to study for the ministry. He is a deacon in the church and has been active in young people's groups for a number of years. A native of Prospect he has lived in Marion most of his life.

Chalices Returned To Church As Priest Prays for Recovery

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 14—A police cruiser drew up at St. Philomena's Catholic church just as the pastor, Msgr. Maurice F. Griffin, was concluding the last of nine masses praying for the return of three stolen chalices.

It brought word that the chalices had been recovered.

Detective Capt. Herbert J. Murray said James F. Onder, 27, had been arrested with the chalices in his possession and that the would be charged with burglary and larceny.

The theft occurred the night of July 1. The vessels were in an unlocked safe in the sacristy of the church.

One of the chalices was a war memorial, made of melted jewelry given by parishioners who had been members of the armed forces.

Murray said Onder was arrested as he met with four other men who were prospective buyers of the vessels, with the intention of melting them down.

A small cross studded with 18 diamonds was missing from one of the chalices, but it was recovered with the arrest of another man. Fourteen of the diamonds remained in place, but four were missing.

FORM NEW UNION

By The Associated Press

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., July 14—A state charter was sought today by the American Mine Clerks and Supervisors association, formed after the UMW-Affiliated Supervisors, District 50, voted to establish an independent union. Ray Mitchell, president of local 160, United Clerical, Technical and Supervisory union (UCTSE), said members protested at a meeting yesterday they had been "let down" by lack of provisions for recognition of the foremen's union in the new nationwide coal contract.

Whale oil, used as lubricant on most early-day light machinery, usually turned rancid, making work in such establishments as textile mills highly unpleasant.

Newsman Fumes As Congress Includes Self Out of Tax Bill

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 12—Most congressmen, from Sen. Harry P. Cain, Wash., who is my senator, quit using my mail slot when they can stop wearing out their pants with their out-size behinds and if their houses burn down I don't want 'em wailing for the fire department.

I refuse to believe congress (not including Sen. Cain) is a crew of tax dodgers. It pains me even to wonder if any lawmaker can be that dishonest, but here are the facts: The gentlemen, who function as the mayor for the District of Columbia, were working on the income tax law. Rep. Joseph O'Hara of Minnesota said he thought it would be nice if the law exempted any federal employe who claims citizenship anywhere else.

"Really Lovely Idea"

The house agreed this was a lovely idea. So eventually did the senate. Few members kicked out loud except Sen. Cain—my favorite lawmaker—and he lost. So now we're about to get a revised income tax in the district, which no federal worker, including congressman, has to pay.

There are more government clerks here than anybody else. They are, of course, supposed to pay taxes in their homes states if these have any taxes. Thirteen stats don't. But not one dime do they have to fork over here on their government wages. The rest of us—the storekeepers, newspapermen, and taxi drivers—do the paying for their drinking water, their fire protection and their street paving. (They better quit wearing out my highways with their limousines.)

We taxpayers are sore at the non-taxpayers. The local editorial writers are denouncing congress as congress seldom has been denounced before. "A cheap little device for tax dodging that should be beneath the dignity of the U. S. congress," says one paper. "Any sort of decent regard for fair play would repeal it," says a second. "Political shenanigans," shouts one editorial. "Unconstitutional," barks another.

Representative Truly Hurt

Rep. O'Hara read the editorials and he was hurt. He could not understand how the writers (who'll have to pay part of the gentleman's local expenses for him) could be so vicious. He pointed out that 222 gentlemen, including himself, voted for his beautiful idea. An overwhelming majority.

The lawgiver from Glencoe, Minn., told his fellow congressmen that the authors of the editorials not only were selfish, but lacking in respect for the dignity of congress. Either that, he said, or they were suffering from liver trouble.

The gentleman, of course, does not include me. My innards are okay; I'll not be sick until that unhappy day when I have to pay taxes and he doesn't. I don't know what'll happen if I see him then, stooping down at one of my drinking fountains.

Nor do I know what he thinks about Sen. Cain, whose internal mechanism, I am happy to report, also is in excellent condition. Sen. Cain battled to the last for a non-hocus-pocus income tax. When a conference getween house and senate agreed that Rep. O'Hara's idea was, indeed, a magnificent one, Sen. Cain exploded.

He announced that if congress couldn't adopt a tax that everybody paid, then, so help him, he'd introduce a bill eliminating the district income tax altogether. That may mean a local sales tax, if it passes, at least we'll all suffer together.

Sen. Cain, step up and have a drink of my water. The rest of you fellows, scram.

Running a retail business calls for being able to make a good buy when it's offered. And that means "capital". We'll lend it to you when you need it—you pay us back in small, low cost amounts while you gain by your investment in stock or store remodeling.

No One Wants It

A COLLECTIVE bargaining settlement in the coal industry has rubbed it into consumers again that they are taking a beating in the race with prices.

As a direct result of the miners' ability to force the greatest wage boost in their history, the price of coal and the price of everything which coal affects will be higher. Organized labor will force new wage concessions from management, to keep abrest of mine workers. Instead of the hoped-for leveling-off in prices, further increases may be expected.

When coal miners can get a base pay of better than $13 a day for mining coal, when bricklayers are in demand at $3 an hour for a basic work week, with overtime added, when artisans of many kinds frequently make as much in a week as millions of their potential consumers make in a month, something has to give. Unfortunately, the country's high-priced workers cannot get by with selling the products of their work to one another; they must depend on the population as a whole for their market—and the population as a whole isn't keeping abreast of rising prices.

The instinct of the people to use government for their protection when all else fails is inherent in a republic. In a pinch, the public will experiment with public control before it will let itself be beaten in the race with prices. This was behind the attempt to continue OPA. It is behind the continuation of rent control in areas where the housing shortage is acute.

The hardest blow that can be struck at private enterprise is not being struck by its critics, but by private enterprise whose failure to protect consumers is driving them into the waiting arms of evangelists for public control of prices and profits. The next significant move in collective bargaining may be demand for a public representative, to curb the tendency to lift prices beyond the reach of consumers. Everybody taking the attitude that consumers are the only ones who should be concerned about rising prices needs to remember that in a republic consumers will turn to government for help before they admit they're licked. That is the last thing private enterprise wants to happen. It is the last thing consumers themselves want to happen, unless they are forced into it.

Just Average

THE Farley memoirs, far from being an easy excuse for cynicism, should be taken at their face value. James A. Farley was a president-maker. He managed the nomination and election of Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932. He knows what went on for the next eight years; he was there.

What went on was not disillusioning, except to those who conjure up rosy dreams about a kind of politics that never existed in this country on any other. A junta of purposeful and skillful politicians, having won control of the government, did everything in their power to keep it. Eventually, they quarreled among themselves, as politicians always do when they begin to divide the spoils of political success.

The losers were turned out in the cold, which was inevitable. Grudges were formed and carried. One of them was carried by Jim Farley; hence the one of his memoirs. The Roosevelt administration, thanks to him, is now seen to be what its apologist claimed it wasn't at the time; namely, just another manifestation of the two-party system of politics—no more supernatural powers, no more black magic, no more altruism than any other.

Henry's Place

INDICATIONS are that Henry Wallace will begin another speaking tour shortly after Labor day, covering territory he missed on his first trip. Between autumn and the Democratic national convention next summer, he expects to carry his message to every part of the country.

His strategy obviously is to take a long-shot chance at winning enough delegates to get the presidential nomination, or, failing that, to force adoption of a party platform favorable to him. If he fails in both objectives, he probably will get his name on the ballot in enough states in the hope of making a showing that will improve his chances for 1952.

These are the implications political analysts see behind Wallace's maneuvering. Despite the many gibes hurled in his direction, Democrats must take him seriously. He could disrupt the party front or he could set up business across the street. They find neither prospect pleasing.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Peculiar Situation Back of Coal Wage Pact.

WASHINGTON, July 14—The usual Lewis struggle with coal management was broken this time before it started. A comparative outsider, Benjamin Fairless, chairman of U. S. Steel, which owns some mines for its own use, sprang forward accepting the terrific wage demands of the union boss in an agreement which revised the national economic outlook. Lewis won an average increase of 45 cents an hour, a 100 per cent increase in his tax on each ton of coal to 10 cents, a 6½ hour workday at actual mining and other concessions (the settlement bringing the average time pay weekly to $65.25, which is nearly five times the $14.47 it was in 1933).

A peculiar condition lay behind this break by steel of the usual coal argument. Steel operations have been running at a peak of about 98 per cent of capacity, but its stocks of coal are low. Demand for steel is practically unlimited. The backlog of orders practically guarantees excellent steel business for the next year if it can get its own coal. (Its CIO steel workers' contracts run two years.)

A coal strike, even if Lewis lost it by government intervention, would ruin all this steel outlook. Some steel orders might never be renewed. Some construction and improvements might never be done.

Just An Example

As a matter of fact, the week ending June 28th steel production fell from 142 to 135.4, in a newspaper index, just because of the limited coal strike. Such an interruption of production and the market would delay automobiles, construction and all durable industry; would prolong shortages, prolong public dissatisfaction, and lead (steel people say this) to a new upward spiral of prices of everything by causing more shortages.

The steel crowd, therefore, decided to step in and furnish leadership for the unprecedent settlement. Some of their people say it was a patriotic duty.

Of course, the settlement will cause new price rises in many lines. Coal may go to fantastic altitudes. But the steel people figured this would not be as bad to the national economy as a tie-up at this time when things have just started humming, and certainly this is true as far as their industry is concerned. So Lewis was given more than he would ever have won from the government or Interior Secretary Krug. Industry simply purchased from Lewis the time to produce—at an inestimable general price increase.

Can't Stand a Change

All economists do not look at the settlement this way, naturally. The new price-wage level can be sustained only as long as there are shortages of coal, steel, automobiles, etc, while we are exporting coal to Europe and consumers have the money and are willing to pay the price. When these conditions cease, the coal industry will be left with a fantastic wage scale it cannot pay out of price received.

(The price is really only sustained by the shortages.) This might lead to unemployment, possibly government seizure and operation at a loss, monopoly legislation or certainly regimentation to keep up the price of coal. (U. S. Steel company costs were increased by the agreement $75,000,000 a year in steel and $40,000,000 in coal.)

Predict Socialization

Indeed some authorities here are saying privately it will lead certainly to socialization as in France and Britain. This would bring diminishing production and less work as it has in both countries. As soon as the price breaks, perhaps even the coal operators would be glad to let the government buy the mines, under these union operating conditions, as was the case in both France and Britain.

So the great victory for the miners of John Lewis may turn out to be only the victory of a profiteer—be he union leader or industrialist. He can win only as long as he can keep the price up. When he fails, he not only loses, he is ruined. When the price breaks, worse conditions than the miners have ever known could ensue, as a direct result of winning their own demands. But you cannot argue sound economics to a miner with money in his pocket.

At any rate, the first major union settlement under the Taft-Hartley bill, which the unions have been calling "the slave labor bill" does not seem to have enslaved anyone, except the consumer. Lewis has specifically circumvented or violated the laws by the contracts. Thus, he has been restored to be the big man of the unions, and people are saying he might establish himself as the big boss economically of the country as well, by working out a combine of the AFL and CIO under his leadership.

A More Spirited Type of Greeting

A plan is now being perfected whereby whisky, like flowers, may be sent by wire.

Apparently soon will come the day when a citizen, seeking to telegraph some roses, will be met with the query, "A dozen, sir, or Four?"

One knew this was an age of applied science, but who thought to see the merger of the brain children of those two great public benefactors, I. W. Harper and Samuel F. B. Morse?

Still, the new service will doubtless have wide appeal among citizens who find the conventional greeting dry and inadequate.

Incidentally, will singing messenger boys have to enlarge their repertoires to include "Sweet Adeline" along with "Happy Birthday To You?"

And how long before Western Union changes its slogan to "Don't Write . . . . Intoxi-graph?"

There's just one thing that worries me. In dry states, what will the addressee receive . . . . root beer or an IOU?

Utah's Centennial

A SHAFT of granite inscribed with "This Is The Place" rises at the mouth of Emigration Canyon in Utah's Wasatch Mountains. It marks the spot where, on July 24, 1847, Brigham Young's carriage stood when the Mormon leader, after a 1,000-mile trek from Illinois, first saw the purplish-gray waste of Salt Lake Valley. A year-long celebration of Utah's century of progress now is under way.

Irrigation waters have transformed arid but fertile range areas into productive farmlands where grains, sugar beets, fruits and truck crops flourish along with poultry, cattle, and sheep. New farmlands, in turn, have built new communities supported by grain and sugar mills, canneries, creameries and packing plants.

Most of the transformation has occurred since Utah became the Union's 45th state in 1896. Such new undertakings as the Central Utah Reclamation Project, damming the Green River in the northeast corner of the state, will provide power for future industry and make farm acreage of vast additional areas of desert.

Minerals have transformed Utah by building its railroads, centered at Ogden, 30 miles north of Salt Lake City. They thrust Utah into front-rank industrial importance from the start of World War II.

Surface mines in Bingham Canyon, south of Salt Lake City, have yielded three million tons of copper since 1907, with gold and silver as byproducts. These plus lead and zinc have come from Wasatch diggings since as early as 1870. The state is consistently among the leaders in supplying these five important metals.

World War II gave Utah a big steel mill, at Geneva, on the shore of Utah Lake. Operating in peacetime, it promises to make extensive use of the state's deposits of iron ore and coal. Petroleum for Utah's second century seeps from mountains of shale in the eastern part of the state.

Soviet Gets Prefab Houses from Germany

By The Associated Press

BERLIN — Among reparations going to Russia from the Soviet occupation zone of Germany are thousands of prefabricated houses, according to the American military government's official German newspaper, the Neue Zeitung.

The newspaper—which recently reported that the Russians had transported out of their zone more than eleven thousand railroad carloads of reparations products in a single month—said that extraordinarily heavy cuttings were being made in the zone's rich forests, with top priority going to reparations.

The Neue Zeitung, reporting that the Germans were also producing ships and railroad ties for the Russians, said the zone had reparations orders for 4,000 prefabricated houses to be produced for shipment to the Soviet union during 1947.

It said that the houses were ordered equipped with central heating and sanitation facilities and electric wiring. Assembly line construction has been arranged, it added.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Congressmen have two weeks left to extend their remarks in the record and the rest of the summer to explain them.

The CIO is bitter about this congress. Many members did not always vote in the best interests of those who opposed their election.

The PAC already is organizing its 1948 "educational campaign." '46 was a smashing success . . . Millions of "educated" voters tramped to the polls and elected the wrong people.

Anyhow Joe Martin now stands in succession for the presidency . . . I hear dinners will be held all over the country to celebrate the proximity of a Republican to the White House.

* * *

But I don't think it's true that the Republican national committee phones the White House every morning to ask how the President is feeling.

HEADACHES

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, July 14, 1937.

Russian transport fliers landed in a pasture field near San Jacinto, Calif., after a non-stop flight from Moscow which broke the world's long-distance record. The gasoline tank was leaking when the big monoplane was brought down at the end of the approximate 6,700-mile flight of slightly more than 62 hours in the air. The fliers told the charge d'affaires of the Soviet embassy, in a telephone conversation to Moscow, that they landed where they did so as to end their flight on United States soil. Otherwise, they said, they would have landed in Mexico.

Senator Joseph T. Robinson, 64, Democratic leader and President Roosevelt's chief senate advisor, died suddenly in Washington.

John W. Navin of Cummins avenue, who retired as stationary engineer the previous Saturday, was surprised by a group of former associate employes.

John C. Cheney, 66, well-known farmer and member of the Prospect school board, died at his home near Prospect.

Approximately 150 children and adults attended the Salvation Army picnic held at Sugar Grove lake, arranged by Captain and Mrs. Rothwell Stickley.

Dr. and Mrs. O. M. Young arrived home from a two months' tour in Europe. They had arrived in New York the previous week aboard the SS Manhattan.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, July 14, 1927.

Rain broke a heat wave that had gripped the country for several days, causing 31 deaths. The mercury reached a high mark of 94 in Marion.

Wesley M. King, a member of the county board of commissioners, was injured when kicked by a horse at his farm seven miles southeast of Marion.

Arrangements were completed for a $18,000 remodeling of Salem Evangelical church when members of the congregation approved plans drawn by J. Lewis Ellis, Marion architect.

Miss Ruby Craner, graduate of Harding High school and daughter of Mrs. L. H. Craner of Cherry street, was one of 31 students honored in recognition day exercises at Wittenberg college, Springfield.

Safety Director W. B. Strayer received four bids on a new pumper to be bought for the fire department. The bids ranged from $13,000 to $13,500.

Ratings of Taft and Dewey

By MARK SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, July 14 — By common judgment the two leaders in the race for the Republican nomination are Governor Dewey of New York, and Senator Taft, of Ohio. The same judgment says that as between the two, Mr. Dewey is at this time in the lead. Other possibilities, this judgment holds, are minor and are dependent upon the chance of a deadlock between Mr. Dewey and Mr. Taft, with each killing the other off.

The opinion that Mr. Dewey and Mr. Taft are in the lead, and that as between the two Governor Dewey is ahead, is very general among Republican leaders and others equipped to judge. As a judgment it is held by persons whose wishes are counter to it.

The rating is in fact contrary to what political leaders and observers have usually regarded as basically important, they call it "the logic of the situation." From that standpoint a survey of prospects in the Republican Presidential race should begin with an event just ahead of us, the closing of congress.

Return to Power Dramatic

This is the first Republican congress in seventeen years. That long exile from power included a time—in 1936 when the Republicans carried only two states—when there was doubt whether the party would ever come back. This made its return to power dramatic, caused special interest in this congress. The Republicans were writing a record upon a clean slate.

But no special circumstance was needed to make the record of the Republicans in this congress important. What they did was bound to be the basis upon which they must make their campaign for the Presidency next year and upon which the country will judge them.

In the making of this record one man had a unique eminence. Never in recent years has any one in any congress, in either party, had the kind and degree of leadership Senator Taft has had in this. He was at once a leader in thought in policymaking and also in battle on the senate floor, a combination unique in itself. A head of the Republican policy committee, and also head of the official senate committee on labor, Mr. Taft was peculiarly identified with and responsible for the outstanding piece of legislation this congress passed, the most far-reaching in effect, the most dramatic in the circumstances of its enactment. The new labor law is called the Taft-Hartley act.

Taft Party Closely Linked

The outstanding identity of Mr Taft with the record of congress gives him a kind of status in the election of the Republican nominee for the presidency. In a sense that is qualified, yet real, Mr. Taft is to the Republicans what President Truman is to the Democrats. Because Mr. Truman's record is the record of the party, it is taken for granted the Democrats must renominate him for the presidency. Not to renominate Mr. Truman, to pass him by and substitute another, would be to repudiate the party's record, and thus take on a serous handicap to success in the electon. So much is this recognized that no one other than Mr. Truman is much considered.

The Republicans are not under the same degree of obligation to nominate Senator Taft. Yet they will be running on the record made by congress, and of much of that record Mr. Taft is a creator, of all of it a symbol. The point would not be lost sight of by Democrats in the campaign.

What is here written is as of today. Much depends on developments during the coming year, on conditions as they arise when the Republicans make their nomination eleven months from now. If the labor law is in controversy, if opponents of the law make a campaign to repeal it, as labor leaders say they will; if the labor leaders and their school of thought achieve power in the Democratic party or are embraced by it; in short, if the labor law is an issue and if Mr. Truman as a candidate for the presidency takes the same position on the law that he did when he vetoed it in violent language—if all these "ifs" should become actualities, the strategy of Democratic campaign speakers would be plain and exultant. They would ask the Republicans why, if they believe in the labor law, they did not give their nomination for the presidency to the author of it.

Taft Has a Liability

Yet, as between Mr. Taft and Mr. Dewey, Mr. Taft has a liability that goes with his advantage. A party leader proposes or defends many pieces of legislation, each of which has opponents, and the sum of this opposition becomes a handicap to aspiration for the presidency. This condition creates for Senator Taft a uniqueness additional as a party leader in congress. He is the only man, I think, since Clay who was at the same time a leader in the senate and also an aspirant for the presidency. During more than sixty years only once has either party picked a sitting member of congress as its presidential nominee. The exception was Harding; and he, far from being a leader, had an inconspicuousness that facilitated his nomination.

Meanwhile, Governor Dewey is the double beneficiary of conditions fortunate for him. He enjoys an admitted distinction as the strikingly successful executive of the largest state, and he is immune from opposition excited by current controveries in the national field.

133 Burglaries Daily in Berlin

BERLIN—The German press has demanded a "swiftly working, hard-hitting elite Police" such as Edgar J. Hoover's FBI to combat crime in Berlin. In suggesting such a police organization, Der Abend said there were 16,187 house breakings from January to April of this year—a daily rate of 133 burglaries.

Forms for Summer Correspondence

The following letter to all permanent guests was sent by a big city hotel under the rent decontrol law:

Dear Sir:

This hotel hereby gives you notice that it elects to terminate the tenancy now existing between it and yourself. Unless you vacate Room No. —— before the 30th of July, 1947, this hotel will begin summary proceedings to eject you.

Very truly yours,

The complete lack of anything faintly resembling civility or regret moves Elmer Twitchell to suggest some 1947 forms for correspondence in all relations between customer and management:—

Form No. 1. For Ousting a Hotel Guest With Even Less Consideration:

Sir:

This hotel elects to leave you on your ear pronto. It calls attention to our motto, "If the customer doesn't wear bumpers front and rear it is his own fault." Scram! Or else!

Wishing you plenty of hard luck,

Form No. 2. Announcing Higher Restaurant Rates:

Sir or Madame:

You are hereby notified that you will get no more food here at the former rates. Furthermore, you will hereafter be required to bring your own knife and fork and help with the dishes. If this notice leaves you right side up and unbruised, we regret it deeply.

Viciously yours,

Form No. 3. For Any Landlord Raising a House Rent:

Sir:

It gives us great pleasure to order you off the premises. This will serve as a formal notice that we have a sheriff ready with the dispossess notice and that he can hardly wait. Or would you prefer our "Flying Wedge."

Our advice is for you to leave quietly, after cleaning the windows.

With elation,

Form No. 4. For a Tourist Camp Owner Ousting an Occupant of Fifteen Years:

Listen Bum:

This camp hereby orders you to take your trailer and get off the grounds inside of twenty-four hours. If there is any further delay our lawyers will swing into action. Our motto: "Use No Hooks" has been discontinued.

Phooey on you,

Mr. Twitchell thinks these meet the spirit shown in some quarters and is at work on additional forms. He is not quite up to the job as he lacks the tender touch in letter writing that was possessed by Caligula and Nero.

He is going over their style, however, and will also brush up on technic by perusing the correspondence files of Dracula and Simon Legree.

What struck us about that killing of a bandit in a bus in the heart of New York was the astonishing nonchalance of most of the passengers. It just goes to show that life in a city bus these days is so violent, a few pistol shots thrown in are hardly noticed.

Just an Old Custom

By TRUMAN TWILL

People make a big thing about getting up in the morning—some boast that they spring out of bed and feel fine, others admit they need two hours to get going. But there's nothing special about getting up in the morning.

As the earth turns, sunlight penetrates the gloomy mist and becomes the signal for living things on, under and above the earth's surface to start looking for more food so another day can be survived.

The chickens jump down off whatever they've been roosting on to scratch for bugs, and the two-legged mammals scramble down from their perches in bedrooms, apartment buildings, hotels and so on to scratch for toast and cereal.

The slanting rays of early sunlight rouse the furred creatures of the fields and forests, and about the same time the unfurred creatures of the cities and farms feel the same urge to climb out of their nests and join the hunt for small game, berries and cool, clear drinking water.

All start out with the same idea—something to eat as soon as possible. The plumber chomps down a breakfast of eggs, bacon, toast and coffee and is up and away, to earn enough money to buy more food for the morrow.

The grizzly bear sleepily chews up a grub found underneath a rotting log and decides to go looking for lunch, maybe a bee tree—wow!

Except for owls, bats and night-shift workers, everybody is stirring by noon, except the sick and helpless, who linger in out-of-the-way places, waiting patiently for whatever fate has in store for them. All the nests, roosts, burrows and beds are aired while umpteen zillion living things dig, strive, chew, plot, sweat, loiter, push, contrive and connive through another day.

They consume incredible quantities of roots, fruits, liquids and one another. They preen their feathers and comb their hair. They admire their fur coats—natural and acquired. They throw baseballs and coconuts at each other. They crow, cackle, sing, croon, exhort, make footprints in the sands of time, pound typewriters and tell each other they are busy.

Gradually they get tired out and begin to think about shutting their eyes and getting more sleep so they will be able to hunt grubs again tomorrow. The last slanting rays of sunlight disappear, everybody makes his way to whatever nest he's going to sleep in and finally it's dark and quiet for a few hours while the sun shines on other parts of the earth. Then, it's morning again—time to get moving—time to cackle, yell, sing, talk, chew, chomp, push, pull and make ends meet again.

There's nothing special about getting up in the morning. Zillions do it.

Babies Score Record in Australia

By The Associated Press

CANBERRA—The natural increase in Australia's population last year was the largest on record with births of 176,406 exceeding deaths by 101,740.

The birthrate in 1946 was 23.68 a thousand of population and the highest since the record rate of 23.75 in 1923, Australian Government statistician Dr. Roland Wilson reported.

Statisticians expect the Australian census next will show Australia's population is around 7,500,000 compared with 8,650,000 in the last census in 1933.

THE NATION TODAY

European Parley Called One Of World's Greatest Experiments

JAMES MARLOW
...ed Press Writer

...DON July 14—Here's ... of the experiments which is

James Marlow

The Marshall plan itself is vague. It probably will remain that way some time. In fact, it is not even a plan. It's only a proposal.

This whole thing, including the meeting going on in Paris now, is a direct result of a speech Secretary of State Marshall made June 5

Made Four Points

Briefly, Marshall in that speech said this

1. The U. S. has poured billions of dollars into Europe to get it on its feet. But the U S help was given piece-meal And Europe is still on its back.

2. Before the U. S gives any more help, the European nations must show signs of helping themselves instead of running to the U. S for everything

3 If the European nations show they can help themselves and still need help from outside, they can ask the U. S

4 But whatever help they get from the U S won't be given in a piece-meal way any more It will be given only according to plan

What plan? There isn't any now. The 16 nations in Paris now are meeting to set up a plan.

Set Up Committees

To start the ball rolling, they'll create committees to do this

1. Study what each country has, what it needs, what it can afford to let a neighbor have, instead of asking the U. S. for it.

2. When the studies are finished, Europe will know what it can do for itself and where it must absolutely rely upon the U. S. for help.

That will be the plan But how much will the U. S. have to give? And what? And how much will it cost?

That will begin to show up when the committees have finished some of their work? When will that be? No one can say positively.

Before Europe gets any more big-sized help from the U. S., won't congress have to approve? Yes, when? That's puzzling a lot of people, too.

Congress expects to finish up its work for 1947 by the end of this month and no home until 1948.

May Be Called Back

If Europe comes up with a plan, and is badly in need of help before next January, President Truman might call a special session of congress.

But there's no sign that he has that in mind at all. So it may be some time in 1948 before congress gets around to voting help for Europe.

And when the time comes for voting in congress, provided Europe comes up with a plan, there'll be plenty of fighting in congress.

So there's no telling now when Europe will get the help Marshall promised. But the promise has aroused tremendous hope in Europe.

That hope already has had a startling effect. It's split Europe into two blocs, those lining up with the U. S, those lining up with Russia.

The nations meeting in Paris to take part in the plan are Britain, France, Austria, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Ireland, Iceland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland, Italy, Portugal, Greece, Turkey.

Some Countries Refuse

The nations refusing to take part because they're tied in with Russia, which led the way in refusing are, Poland, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria, Albania, Finland, Czechoslovakia.

The success or failure of the plan may mean a turning point in world history. European nations are in bad shape now.

With their own help and that of the United States, they may be able to get back on their own feet and stay there.

If the U. S. falls short on its so-far vague promises those countries may be plunged into poverty and despair and, disillusioned about the U. S, turn to the leadership of Russia and Communism.

That's the last thing the U. S wants to see happen. Russia has warned Europe that the U. S., through the Marshall plan, wants to dominate that continent

U S officials insist our only intent on is to help Europe get on its feet.

The Chief Executive is shown accepting the gifts at the White House for himself and the First Lady. YOUR HEALTH

By BERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Test That Aids Doctor

One of the most difficult questions for a doctor to decide questions for a doctor to decide is just how soon it is safe to allow certain patients to be up and around

Take the man who has suffered an attack of coronary thrombosis, for instance. In this condition a clot forms in the arteries which supply the heart with blood With the blood cut off even momentarily, the heart muscle is damaged Obviously, everything depends on how long it will take this damaged heart to heal To keep the patient in bed longer works a needless hardship; to allow him up earlier might be disastrous

Formerly, doctors could scarcely do more than hazard a shrewd guess on this important question but today they have a simple test to aid them in making their decision

This is the sedimentation test and it is as easily carried out, according to Dr Alex A Numbers of Canada, as the counting of white blood cells or an analysis of the urine

To make it a small amount of blood is taken from the patient and placed in a very narrow tube Then the time required for the blood cells to settle out of the fluid part of the blood is noted

This simple procedure tells the doctor much According to Dr Numbers, any increase in the speed with which the red cells settle is due to a change in the make-up of the blood plasma This, in turn, is due to the taking up by the blood of substances formed by the destruction of tissue.

In other words, the rate of settling is an indirect measure of the breakdown of tissues, regardless of what has produced this breakdown. As the rate of settling comes back to normal, the doctor know that healing has taken place

In chronic ulcer of the bowel or chronic appendicitis there is no increase in the blood sedimentation rate, because there is no marged destruction of tissue In coronary thrombosis, however, there is a marked increase.

In some types of arthritis or inflammation of the joints, as well as in pneumonia, the sedimentation rate may be very rapid

The sedimentation rate is also of value in following the results of treatment in rheumatic fever.

In rheumatic fever, there are inflammation of the joints, and often, damage to the heart. The fever and number of white cells in the blood may come down long before the sedimentation rate does. The patient should be kept in bed and at rest until the sedimentation rate has been normal for a period of from three to six weeks

The sedimentation rate is also useful in diagnosis. Thus, whenever it shows an increase, a careful study should be made to determine just what type of disorder is present. On the other hand, the normal rate does not rule out the possibility that some disease is not present. But where it is high, the doctor is definitely put on guard and should make a search for something out of the way whether there are other symptoms to indicate it or not.

ST. PATRICK'S Catholic church in Wyandotte, Mich., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Betty Catherine Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hale of that city, and Jack E Schuler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Schuler of 427 North Main street, Saturday morning. The sanctuary was banked with palms and bouquets of white snapdragons adorned the altar for the nuptial high mass solemnized at 10 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Carlson Robideau.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were her sister, Miss Margie Hale, who was the maid of honor, and Miss Ann Schuler of Marion, sister of the bridegroom, bridesmaid. Mr. Schuler's brother, Ted Schuler of Chicago, was his best man, and James A. Schuler of Chicago and Richard Schuler of Marion, also brothers, and Joseph Simon of Wyandotte, were ushers

A wedding gown of white marquisette and Chantily lace was worn by the bride, who was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Button trimmed down the back, the basque was accented with a wide band of the lace and the marquisette top was fashioned with a high neckline in an off-the-shoulder effect. An inset of the lace slightly below the waistline banded the full skirt, which extended into a sweep hemline. Her fingertip veil of net was held with a shirred half-bonnet caught with orange blossoms and her bridal bouquet held stephanotis and a white orchid showered with ribbon and stephanotis.

The attendants wore identical gowns of white marquisette. The sleeveless basques were fashioned with deep fichus and the full skirts, worn over crinoline, ended in deep flounces. Their open crown halo hats of Kelly green mahine had long satin ribbon streamers extending nearly to the hemline of the gowns and they wore short white gloves. Their bouquets held rubrum lilies and ivy.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a strand of pearls, and the bride's attendants gifts were pearl necklaces. Mr. Schuler presented his best man and the ushers with tieclasps.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hale wore a print costume of aqua and black with black accessories, and Mrs. Schuler chose a pink and black mesh costume with which she combined black accessories. Each wore a corsage of white carnations and stephanotis.

White snapdragons decorated the table for the wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, and later Mr. and Mrs Hale were hosts at a reception

When the couple left on a motor trip through the west the bride was wearing a gabardine suit in a turf tan shade and black accessories. Upon their return they will make their home in Wyandotte.

The bride attended Michigan State college at Lansing, Mich and is a secretary with the Wyandotte Chemical Co. Mr. Schuler was graduated from St. Mary Parochial school in Marion and received his engineering degree at the University of Dayton. In service four years, he was a first lieutenant in the U. S. Signal Corps, serving in the Pacific theater. He is a chemical engineer with the Parke Davis Co. in Detroit.

Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Schuler and son Thomas of North Main street, Mrs. Henry Schuler and Miss Mary F. Schuler of East George street, Mrs Harold Monnette of South Vine street, Mr. and Mrs E. E. Brown of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Steigerwald and son, James and Mrs. Helen Donovan of Lakewood

Other committee members named were: Rev. Theodore Pretzlaff of Detroit, treasurer; Rev. Luther Schliesser of Youngstown, secretary; Rev. Herman Heidman of Oak Harbor, Rev. Frank Jordan of Clyde; Rev. Rennix Van Scoy of Crestline and Rev. Edwin Prange of Berea.

MRS. BYRON CLABAUGH

Upper Sandusky Church Is Scene Of Wedding Rites

Miss Naomi Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Miller of near Marion, became the bride Saturday evening in the John Stewart Methodist church in Upper Sandusky of Byron Clabaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Clabaugh of Upper Sandusky. The couple repeated their vows at 7:30 o'clock before the altar decorated with palms and baskets of white daisies and lighted by candles in four seven-branch candelabra. The pastor, Rev. Cecil Fogle, officiated for the double ring ceremony and the custom of closed church was observed.

A half-hour program of nuptial music preceded the ceremony with Mrs. Robert Rice at the organ and Robert Rice as soloist. Selections by Mrs. Rice included "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," Herbert, "O Promise Me," DeKoven, "Because,". d'Hardelot, "Indian Love Call," Friml and the traditional wedding marches Mr. Rice sang "Always," Berlin, and "I Love You Truly," Bond, and during the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte.

The bride was escorted to the altar and give in marriage by her father. Her gown, of white silk marquisette, had a fitted bodice styled with a low neckline which was edged with tiny accordion pleats. The same pleating was repeated around the long train which extended from a very full skirt. Her fingertip veil of bridal net was held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms, and her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift from her great aunt. She carried a bouquet of white daisies with satin streamers on which were tied sprigs of greenery.

Preceding the bride to the altar was her maid of honor, Miss Josephine Ettore, and her sister, Mrs. Clifford Wood, and sister-in-law, Mrs. Harold Miller, as bridesmaids. Miss Ettore wore a gown of pale blue marquisette fashioned with a fitted waist and full skirt. She wore a crownless picture hat of blue and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white daisies tied with pink satin ribbon. The bridesmaids' gowns were identical, with Mrs. Wood in aqua marquisette and Mrs. Miller in pink marquisette. Both wore matching crownless picture hats and carried colonial bouquets of pink and white daisies tied with pink satin streamers.

Harry Clabaugh, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and ushers were Lowell Miller, brother of the bride, and Frank McClain. They also lighted the candles.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Miller chose a gray dress with which she combined black accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. Clabaugh, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a black dress and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception for 100 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table was decorated with lighted tapers and white daisies surrounded the punch bowl. Assisting in serving were Miss Josephine Ettore, Mrs. Marion Lefler and Miss Jessie McAfee. When the couple left on a wedding trip through the Blue Ridge Mountains in Virginia and points east, Mrs. Clabaugh was wearing a yellow gabardine suit with white accessories and a corsage of painted daisies.

Mrs. Clabaugh was graduated from Waldo High school in 1937 and for the past five years has been employed at the Marion Engineer depot. Mr. Clabaugh is also employed at the Engineer depot.

At a rehearsal party Friday night, the bride and bridegroom presented gifts to their attendants.

Peak in Prices Believed Near

Retail Federation Head Says Top Level Either Here or Already Passed.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 14 — Jerome M. Ney, board chairman of the American Retail Federation, said today "it is probable we are near or past the peak of prices."

But Ney, a former deputy price administrator, added that he made this statment with reservations because he is "wary just now with grain prices acting up and meats showing marked upward activity as a result."

Ney outlined his views in a statement prepared for the joint congressional committee on the economic report, which is trying to chart a course toward a stable American economy.

To this end, the witness proposed that the nation strive toward a "bench-mark" of twice the industrial production of 1939, a leveling-off goal of 58,000,000 employed, and national income of $185,000,000,000 a year — about $7,000,000,000 more than at present.

In other statements presented to the committee: :

▶C. Wilson Harder, president of the National Federation of Small Business, said that "if there is to be a future for small business of this nation, with the public being the principal beneficiary, the main and foremot action of this committee should be (to see that there is) vigorous and immediate anti-trust enforcement."

Harder recommended that congress make a special appropriation of at least $2,000,000 to the justice department's anti-trust division for prosecution of all pending monopoly cases and to investigate "the problem of concentration" of big business.

▶Arthur R. Upgren, professor of economics at the University of Minnesota and associate editorial editor of the Minneapolis Star, declared he sees no "serious threat to the extremely high level of employment (currently more than 60,000,000) that will come this year, or next year, or even in the year after that."

CONGRESS

but it was mutually recognized that there are extreme legislative difficulties making conclusive action this session all but impossible.

"This matter will be further discussed between us to see what can be done about it in the future."

The Marshall proposal for European self-help, aided by substantial American dollar support, was discussed only in connection with the adjournment problem, Vandenberg said.

The President, he told questioners, did not raise the question of the sizeable foreign aid program, including the Greek-Turkey aid measure which has received congressional authorization but no direct appropriation.

Mr. Truman's assurance that he will deal "promptly" with the income tax reduction bill "entirely relieves the pressures which otherwise might have complicated the remaining congressional agenda, Vandenberg added.

He forecast that the bill, which would make a 10.5 to 30 per cent reduction in individual rates effective next Jan. 1, will get final senate action today.

The Republican steering committee of the house has arranged to meet shortly after the White House session.

SUMMER CHAPEAU. Since roses are complimentary to brunettes, film star Ann Miller wears them on top and side of her head, tied together by black veiling. The tiny hat is ideal for the summer and should be worn only with the more sophisticated type of hair-do's.

TAFT

western vacation, Taft also has planned a trip to California in September. He will address the California Bar association on Sept. 12.

Taft' candidacy was given another boost when Rep. Clarence Brown, Ohio Republican from Blanchester, was appointed to the arrangements committee of the Republican national convention.

Brown, who is expected to manage the pre-convention campaign on Senator Taft, is the only Ohioan on the committee which was appointed by national committee chairman Carroll Reece. The convention will be held in Philadelphia, June 21, 1948.

The surprise move to slow Dewey's drive down was instigated by supporters of the various "favorite son" candidates, with Gov. James Duff of Pennsylvania taking the lead Duff warned Republican leaders against selecting a presidential nominee "so far in advance of our national convention."

"We don't want the party's mind made up before the convention," the Pennsylvania governor said. "We want a wide open field at that time and will do every thing to keep it open insofar as Pennsylvania is concerned. I think you will find a good many others here who feel the same way.

Easy Sweep Seen

"If a convention selects its candidate in spontaneous enthusiasm, we will move him into the presidency without any difficulty. But, you can't be spontaneous next year about a candidate chosen now."

He advanced U. S Senator Edward Martin as his "favorite son," although there has been talk of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

"There is a wealth of potential candidates and fortunately they are all good," Duff said.

Gov. Thomas J Herbert of Ohio indicated he supported Duff's thinking. He said no one candidate "has a commanding lead at this time and there will be many favorite son candidates presented at the convention."

Illinois Wide Open

Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois, another prospective "favorite son" candidate, said his state was wide open although most Republican leaders give Taft an edge in the Prairie state

Gov. Alfred J. Driscoll of New Jersey indicated, however, that there was strong Dewey sentiment

Gov. Earl Warren of California, continued to play a "mysterious" role. Warren has been mentioned for both the presidential and vice-presidential nominations, but he gave his backers little encouragement.

Gov. Earl Snell, of Ore., said the talk in his state was all for Dewey and Sen. Vandenberg of Michigan, but Warren would get the solid Oregon vote if he would say he is a candidate.

The Secretary-General of the International Emergency Food Council Says:
Help World Recovery, Save Used Fats
Thanks to patriotic American women, over 600 million pounds of used fats have been added to U. S. supplies of industrial fats since August 1942. These 600 million pounds were vitally important, not only to the United States, but to the entire world.
Fats and oils, both food fats and industrial fats, are in critically short supply, practically everywhere. Total world production of fats and oils in 1947 will be one-sixth less than in prewar years. But at the same time, there are many more mouths to feed and a tremendous job of reconstruction and rehabilitation to be done.
In the face of this great world-wide shortage of fats and oils, it is obviously most necessary to conserve every possible pound of fat. American women can make a real contribution to the welfare of their own country and to the recovery of the rest of the world by saving and turning in their used cooking fats.

BRICKER

a misdemeanor, with a maximum penalty of one year in jail and $1,000 fine. This offense can draw two years if the maximum penalty is given and the fine goes unpaid.

Bricker, the 1944 Republican vice presidential nominee, in skipping the hearing, said the officers have all the information they need, but that he would be available if required.

Concerned for Colleagues

Bricker, in fact, showed much more concern over what he called the potential danger to his colleagues in general than he did over his own escape.

"I've often worried about the huge crowds we have just overhead in the senate galleries," the 53-year-old Ohio lawmaker said. "It would be a mighty easy thing for someone to drop a grenade over that railing."

Bricker declared, however, that he doesn't know what can be done about the situation "other than have our guards and doormen be more alert."

"We certainly do not want to search all of these people," he added.

Kaiser, who insisted to newsmen and police that he fired at Bricker "to refresh his memory," refused to amplify his remark. He was held without bail after his arrest at an apartment house nearly two miles from the capitol several hours after the shooting.

15-year-old Grudge

Bricker said the 49-year-old Ohioan had talked with him several times about a loss he claims to have suffered in the liquidation of a Columbus savings and loan firm some 15 years ago. Bricker was state attorney general at the time and ordered the liquidation proceedings.

Kaiser was appointed to the capitol police force in October, 1945, by James W. Huffman of Columbus, a Democrat, Bricker's predecessor in the senate. Bricker said he had nothing to do with Kaiser's dismissal last April.

The shooting occurred as Bricker was enroute to the senate chamber by way of the monorail subway which connects the senate office building with the capitol proper.

The senator said the first shot was fired from a distance of about 15 feet and the second after the little subway car had got well underway. Also aboard were J. H. Macomber Jr., a senate committee employe, and Jerry W. Albright, the operator. They too escaped injury.

Bricker completed the ride, reported the incident to guards and proceeded to the senate floor for the long tax bill debate which was just getting under way.

Murder Manhunt Extended

was first broadcast over the state highway patrol radio system, giving the license number of the car Q-4846.

Immediately after learning the license number from the Yeagers the sheriff started a check to learn the name of the person to whom the license was issued. Walter C. Bailey, deputy registrar of motor vehicles, provided the name of "E. D. Young" after being called from bed to examine his records.

After the name and rural route one address was obtained a fruitless search was made of rural mail carriers who knew of no one by that name. Apparently Young had not received mail since moving to Marion about a month ago from a small house east of the Pleasant Township school.

The patrol radio alarm was broadcast about 5:30 a. m., slightly more than three hours after the body was found. In that time the slayer could have traveled a considerable distance before the search got well under way.

"Clues" Traced in Vain

Since Young was named Saturday in a murder warrant filed by Prosecutor James E. Reed and widespread publication was given his picture in newspapers, authorities here and in other parts of the state have traced a number of clues, all proving to be false.

One of the first came early Saturday night when highway patrol threw out road blocks in Fairfield county on a report that a motorist resembling Young had stopped for service at a gasoline station near Lancaster. The car also was said to be similar to Young's 1933 dark blue Chevrolet coupe. No trace of the motorist was found and the patrol later reported inability to locate the gasoline station from which the report was supposed to originated.

Get Call To Newmans

Sunday afternoon Sheriff Retterer and deputies answered a call to Newmans, north of Prospect, where a man reported to have resembled Young was seen in a roadside cafe. Although there was some facial resemblance, including Young's prominent ears, the man was able to establish his identity through a social security card and by other papers. He told the sheriff he formerly had worked in Prospect at the Hanley Engineering Service and had returned to the town Sunday on a visit. In the afternoon he walked to Newmans to get a bottle of 3.2 beer, not available in town.

In the meantime other rumors have received widespread circulation in town, all false, including one that Young has been arrested and that his body has been found in a quarry pool.

The latter apparently stemmed from a search made of several quarry pools in the southern part of the county yesterday. The check revealed nothing.

Called "Too Cowardly"

The sheriff made the remark Saturday he "would not be surprised" if Young and the car were found in a water-filled quarry pit. Mrs. Young's father, while here yesterday, took a different view of this possibility. Sheriff Retterer quoted him as saying Young "was too cowardly to do a thing like that."

Shortly before the Lancaster "tip" Columbus police received a call that a man resembling Young had been seen at the Lockbourne road-Livingston avenue intersection in Columbus. Investigating officers could find no trace of him.

Sunday the sheriff received another tip on two men reported to have been seen with Mrs. Gerbes Thursday afternoon, a few hours before her death. Both of these, however, had been questioned before and had been eliminated as suspects.

Inquires About Auto Repair

The sheriff also has learned that Young called at the Houghton Auto Body shop on North State street Thursday afternoon to obtain an estimate of the cost of repairing a dent in the body of his car. The damaged section was on the right side, back of the door. Retterer said Young agreed to take the car back the next day (Friday) to have the work done. He did not show up.

The description of the car given by mechanics at the body plant checked with that given by the Yeager brothers of the car seen in the churchyard.

Despite its age of 14 years the Chevrolet coupe is reported to be in good mechanical condition. Young is reported to have made a habit of taking good care of his car as well as of the stone truck he drove for the Hall Trucking Co.

Dark blue in color, the car was kept well polished. It was further identified by the sheriff from information from the Yeagers, Mrs. Young and the body shop as having two driving lights mounted below the headlights. The wheels are red or trimmed in red.

VETERANS' NEWS AND INFORMATION

• • • • • •

Prepared by The Public Relations Service, Veterans Administration, Branch Office No. 6, 52 S. Starling street, Columbus, 8, Ohio. Phone Main 6361; Ext. 281.

ADVISE VETS AGAINST NSLI CASH PAYMENTS

The Veterans Administration today advised World War II veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky to pay their G.I. insurance premiums by draft, personal check or money order rather than by direct cash remittances.

Remittance by draft, check or money order should be made payable to the Treasurer of the United tates. Veterans may make insurance payments at any of the authorized collection offices, located in metropolitan areas in the three states, or remittances may be mailed to collections Unit, VA Branch Office No. 6, 52 South Starling Street, Columbus, Ohio.

16,495 VETS SEVERELY DISABLED IN THREE STATES

The Veterans Administration today reported that 16,495 World War II veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky have war-incurred disabilities of 70 per cent or more in degree.

Ohio's 6,948 severely-handicapped veterans include 69 who are blind, 108 with seriously-impaired vision, 81 with hearing or speech defects, 2,762 neuropsychiatric cases, 2,210 with orthopedic difficulties and 1,718 tuberculosis and cardiac cases.

VA provides special individual attention for service-disabled veterans in order to fully assist them in their rehabilitation.

Employers in the three states who are willing to set up job-training programs for severely handicapped veterans are urged to contact their nearest VA office.

PRIOR VA OK NEEDED FOR HOME-TOWN MEDICAL CARE

Prior authorization from the Veterans Administration must be obtained by World War II veterans in order to receive "home-town" medical or dental care at government expense.

VA said numerous veterans have neglected to obtain the necessary authorization before starting treatments. Without prior approval of VA, physicians and dentists rendering the treatment cannot be reimbursed for their services. The only exception is where it is established that emergency treatment was required. Both the veteran and the physician, or dentist, should determine that prior authorization has been given by VA.

Contracts between VA and the medical and dental associations in each of the three states provide that designated physicians and dentists may render treatment in service-connected cases when treatment in a VA installation is not feasibly available. Veterans entitled to medical or dental care for service-connected disabilities should apply for VA approval at their nearest VA office.

ADVISE VETS TO SPECIFY TYPE OF ADDRESS CHANGE

Veterans in institutional and on-job training who submit changes of address to the Veterans Administration should indicate if the changes are temporary or permanent. In cases of permanent changes of address, so specifying will speed up the transfer of the veteran's records to the regional office having jurisdiction over the area in which he will be located.

Trainees who are going on short vacations and have subsistence checks due to arrive during their absence should submit a change of address with a notation that it is only temporary so that their checks will be forwarded.

RENEW HALF-BILLION IN NSLI IN THREE STATES

Approximately one-half billion dollars in G.I. insurance has been reinstated by more than 73,000 World War II veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky during the past five months.

Nearly 38,000 Ohio veterans have reinstated 279 million dollars of G. I. insurance

Veterans may reinstate any amount of their G.I. insurance from a minimum of $1,000 to a maximum of $10,000 in multiples of $500.

Through Aug. 1 of this year, veterans may reinstate their policies without a physical examination. Those who held term insurance have only to pay two monthly premiums and submit a comparative health statement, which is the veteran's word that he is in as good health as on the date the policy lapsed. Those who held other types of G.I. policies may reinstate by paying all back premiums and submitting the comparative health statement.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. My G.I. insurance premium was due two weeks ago. Is my policy now lapsed, or do I have more time to send in my premium payment?

A. Your policy is not lapsed, nor will it be lapsed until 31 days after the date on which your unpaid premium was due.

Q. I have repaid a $4,000 business loan, $2,000 of which was guaranteed by VA under the G.I. bill. Is my guaranty privilege restored to its original amount now that all of my indebtedness has been paid

A. No. You may use your full loan guaranty entitlement only once.

Q. I live and work in the city, but would like to buy a small farm with a guaranteed loan. Do I have to live and work on the farm to get the loan,

A. No. However, you must be in a position to supervise and direct the farming operations.

Q. Can I get a guaranteed loan to buy or build a small apartment house

A. Yes, you may buy or build a small apartment house with a home loan or with a business loan, but the total number of family units cannot exceed four. If more than one veteran is buying an apartment house, then one additional unit for each veteran participating may be added to the basic four.

BEGIN CHECK-UP ON HOSPITAL AT LIMA

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 14—Ray A. Noble of Columbus, former deputy warden of Ohio penitentiary, began a survey of security measure at Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane today.

Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood said that Noble would recommend changes in current procedure to tighten the guard over inmates of the hospital and commented:

"Security measures at the Lima State hospital will be increasingly important in the future. Under recent legislation, the department anticipates three times as many commitments to Lima as in the past."

Director Sherwood pointed out that under the Ascherman act, all convicted sex offenders must have psychiatric examinations and other criminals may be sent to Lima under the act.

Noble, Sherwood said, will survey all physical aspects at the Lima State hospital and then investigate personnel procedures as they affect security.

A department spokesman indicated a security detail probably would be established at the hospital. Noble's survey will take two or three weeks, he said.

PRICES

Mr. Truman said. "But such a blow need not fall upon us."

Retail prices of coal to household users in Pittsburgh today rose $1 to $2 a ton. There has been speculation that the price of steel might go up as much as $5 a ton. There were other reports of retail price coal hikes.

The President said:

"It is unfortunate that the public does not yet fully understand, through the complicated details of the agreement, what is the actual impact of this settlement upon the cost of producing coal."

"In view of the uncertainty as to whether or how much mine costs of coal may be raised, the people of the country have the right to demand that their prosperity shall not be imperiled by immediate increases in the price of coal and in the price of steel."

He said the wage settlement gives the miners a daily wage of $13.05 instead of $11.85, "this being the $1.20 increase recently awarded in other major industries."

The working day, he added, becomes eight hours at straight rates instead of nine, of which seven hours have been at straight time rates and two hours have been at overtime premium rates. He noted that overtime is to be paid for Saturday work only if it has been preceded by five days of work in that week, and the employers will no longer find their schedules disorganized by the inclination of some miners to work on the overtime Saturday and to lay off on some other day." The other feature, he said, is that employers pay an additional five cents per ton into the welfare fund.

"When the most important coal operators and steel producers in the country made this settlement, they asserted that it would be of great benefit to the country by making it possible to continue full production and employment for a long period," the President continued.

"We can all agree that a coal strike would have seriously endangered our prosperity. But whether this settlement does permit that prosperity to continue depends in very large degree upon the decisions of these business managers themselves as to how they will deal with their costs and prices in the light of this settlement."

UN SET TO DEFEAT RUSS BID TO DESTROY A-BOMBS

Gromyko Trying To Override Agreed-Upon U. S. Plan.

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, July 14 — A velled move by Russia to get the United Nations to endorse the immediate destruction of all atomic weapons appeared headed for defeat today in the atomic energy commission.

American sources said that Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko was attempting to override a United States plan, already agreed to by all except Russia and Poland, which calls for disposal of the bombs only upon completion of a treaty for worldwide atomic control with air-tight safeguards.

Gromyko last week offered a proposal for "destruction" of all finished and unfinished atomic weapons rather than for their "disposal." He drew tentative support from Britain, Canada, Brazil, China and Australia, all of whom stipulated, however, that the nuclear fuel in such weapons should be retained for peaceful purposes.

With delegates unable to agree on wording, the proposal was handed to a four-nation sub-committee which was directed to report to the commission's working committee today.

action during the day, the G.O.P. leadership held public promises from Democratic chiefs that there would be no attempt to filibuster or otherwise delay a vote on passage.

No Vote Now

"I was not trying to filibuster," said McClellan, who held the floor when the senate finally recessed Saturday night. "But I was not going to allow a vote then because some senators who favor my amendment could not be present."

McClellan's proposal would allow husbands and wives in all states to split their incomes for federal tax purposes. They now can do this in 13 community property states with a resulting tax savings in most instances.

The Arkansas Democrat claimed support of at least three Republicans—Revercomb of West Virginia, Langer of North Dakota and Morse of Oregon—for his amendment.

SENATE GROUP TURNS DOWN VOTING PROBE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 14—The senate judiciary committee today voted 7-6 against investigating the justice department's conduct of a probe of the 1946 Kansas City congressional primary election.

Senator Kem (R-Mo) promptly introduced a resolution in the senate to discharge the judiciary committee of further consideration of the proposed investigation. His effort was directed to the senate floor for action. Kem proposed investigation rejected by the one-vote margin.

Senator Langer (R-ND) swung away from the Republican majority of the 13-man committee in favor of quashing the proposed inquiry.

Except for Langer, the Republicans voted for a full-dress committee investigation. The Democrats were against it.

"There is nothing further that the committee can do," committee Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) told reporters after the closed judiciary committee session.

"We don't go any further. The committee is stymied."

Senator Kem has charged the justice department with negligence in looking into alleged widespread fraud in the primary in the Fifth congressional district in Missouri.

In that election, Rep. Roger Slaughter (D-Mo), whose defeat had been urged publicly by President Truman, lost to Enos Axtell. The latter, while winning the Democratic nomination, was defeated in the subsequent general election by Albert Reeves Jr., a Republican who now occupies Slaughter's old seat in congress.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) who headed a subcommittee which conducted a preliminary inquiry, left the judiciary meeting early.

"I will have something to say later in the day, probably on the floor," Ferguson commented to reporters.

Kem's discharge resolution must lie over at least one legislative day before it can be considered.

Both state and federal grand juries already have brought a series of indictments in the Fifth district primary.

Gerald L. K. Smith Booed into Silence

Smith, former leader of the America First committee, was booed and heckled by an audience of 700 in Old South Meeting house yesterday and after an hour of trying to make himself heard left the building through a basement exit and was escorted back to his hotel by police.

Smith, who entered the meeting house through a side door because of an endless parade of pickets at the main entrance, later telephoned newspapers to charge that "the demonstration against me was carried on by the Communistic party of Massachusetts."

HITCHHIKER ROBS, WOUNDS BENEFACTOR

By The United Press

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 14 — Wade E. Philpott, 28, was in serious condition today after a weekend encounter with a gun-toting hitchhiker who shot and robbed him on a deserted country road.

Philpott was found by the roadside yesterday by a motorist who took him to St. Joseph's hospital where physicians said the Elmira man had been partially paralyzed from a gun-shot wound in his spine.

According to police, Philpott picked up the unidentified hitchhiker shortly after leaving Kenton, O., for Elmira over the weekend. The hitchhiker produced a gun as the pair reached Elmira and ordered Philpott to drive to the deserted countryside.

Philpott said the hitchhiker struck him over the head, shot him in the back and made off with $60 and the automobile. Philpott described his attacker as about 25 years old, five-feet, nine-inches tall with brown hair and eyes.

TWO FLOUR MILLS AT BUFFALO STRUCK

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 14 — About 1,600 AFL grain processors today struck two Buffalo flour mills — one of them the largest in the country — and a union leader said the walkout "may eventually result in a complete shutdown" of this nation's largest flour milling center.

Picket lines were thrown around the Washburn Crosby division of General Mills, Inc., and the Buffalo plant of Pillsbury Flour Mills Co. Stanley J. Bauer, business agent of Local 21021, AFL flour mill workers, said the stoppage was 100 per cent effective.

The General Mills plant, which normally produces 24,000 barrels a day and employes 1,100, is the largest in the United States.

Bauer said the walkout might spread to the five other principal mills in the area if union demands were not met. The union seeks a 15 per cent hike over the average 1.14¼ an hour Bauer said was now being paid, plus seven instead of six paid holidays annually and vacation pay for a 48 hour than a 40 hour week.

He said the union would meet Wednesday with General Mills officials and that he understood Pillsbury was seeking to set up an industry negotiating committee to include all Buffalo area mills.

RETAIL COAL PRICE FOR OHIO GOING UP

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 14—The price of coal in Ohio is going up.

Reports from the state's major cities show retail consumers will pay from 75 cents to $1.75 more per ton for coal mined under the new union contracts.

Wage increases asked by coal handlers were expected to boost the rise. At Toledo, coal truck drivers and yard workers have asked for an increase of 25 cents an hour over their present $1.15 an hour wage.

Fred L. Jewett, secretary of the Toledo Retail Coal Merchants association, said railroads have asked for a 15-cent a ton rate hike. These raises, he said, would leave dealers no choice but to pass the increases on at $1.50 to $1.75 a ton.

Cincinnati dealers say there is little coal on hand now, but when new stocks arrive, they expect them to sell at higher rates because of anticipated increases of $1.25 to $1.75 a ton at the mines.

Coal association secretaries say each mine is figuring its increase individually and the actual increases will not be known until mines have had an opportunity to study production costs.

At Akron, prices already have been advanced from 75 cents to $1.25 a ton by one-third of the dealers and the remainder are expected to follow within a few days. At Cleveland, similar increases are expected with deliveries of newly mined coal.

Dayton reports coal prices are continuing steady, but an increase is anticipated soon. The coal supply there is reported good, and Larry Foster, secretary of the coal exchange, said prices would be determined after dealers hear from the southern operators.

A home from college get-together will be held from 8 to 11 p. m. Details of what is planned have been sent to many college students, prospective college students, and former college students, inviting them to attend. Although it is called a college affair, all youths above high school age are invited, E. N. Hale, who is in charge of the event, said.

The program will include dancing and games. The soda fountain will be open. It is an experiment with college age young folks in using the facilities of the club, which most of them feel they have outgrown, for fellowship and getting acquainted.

A short business session will be held to discuss what can be done to make future programs successful.

The Y plans to hold a series of the social get-togethers.

In the past the Y has held home from college dinners and social hours, but found that a program of recreation and dancing was more attractive to most young people.

STEEL PRODUCTION UPSWING PREDICTED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 14—Metal-working executives welcome the "green light" for uninterrupted steel production produced by the coal wage settlement, but fear that material costs will spiral upward because of the pay hike, the magazine Steel said today.

"The (coal) agreement is welcomed for clearing the way for a long period of high and uninterrupted steel production," said the trade journal, "giving promise of a new record peacetime year, and pressaging fairly early balancing of supply and demand for steel products.

"Not so welcome are the effects the agreement will have on metal-working costs," the magazine added. "The increased cost of mining coal will soon be reflected in steelmaking raw materials and later in costs.

"Steel prices are scheduled to advance an average of $5 a ton within the next several weeks, as producers make adjustments to cover both the increased costs resulting from the coal settlement, and also the earlier increase in steelworkers' wages. Announcement of new steel price schedules is expected early in August."

Steel production increased 13 points to 88 per cent of capacity last week following the coal settlement, with the rate expected to return to its pre-coal-crisis level by the end of this week, the magazine said.

Major increases in production were 44½ points to 77.5 per cent of capacity at Cleveland, 26½ points to 85 per cent at Pittsburgh, 15 points to 55 per cent at Youngstown, and 15 points to 78 at Wheeling.

7,500 SEE MISS RUBY, SHANKLIN SPLIT TOP SULKY RACE

Favorites Fail In Biggest Test At Local Meet

Barefoot G, Double Volo Lose Out in 14 Class Pacing Derby Saturday.

By DON C. BURTON

A crowd that packed the grandstand, lined the rails and overflowed on the infield saw the 14 class Pacing Derby, feature event of the 18-day session of the Little Grand Circuit races at the fairgrounds, Saturday night. An estimated gross attendance of 7,500 racing enthusiasts saw two horses split the $3,000 purse in the Morral Supply Co. stake.

Miss Ruby, a bay mare by Lew Axworthy owned and driven by Elmer Conrad of Corydon, Ind., outpaced a field of 11 starters to take top honors in the first dash of the big event.

The big favorite Barefoot G, broke a hopple soon after starter Paul Young in his white truck gave the word "go" and speeded away. The Barefoot one finished a bad last after pacing the fastest mile in 15 years at the local oval only one week before. Miss Ruby's time was 2:06.2.

Double Volo Out

Double Volo, another of the big favorites in the feature race got off to a bad start, but made a strong bid at the finish and grabbed second money.

In the second stanza of the Pacing Derby a bay horse by Volomite, Shanklin, took the honors at a distance of a mile and a sixteenth. He is owned by C. G. Munn of Jackson, Mich., and had Don Miller holding the reins. Shanklin had taken third money in the first test and a blanket was presented to driver Don Miller by Doris Miller on behalf of the Morral Supply Co.

In the last test Double Volo led to the stretch and had several lengths advantage in the back stretch, Miller using tail sitter tactics, nosed out the wind breaking Volo in the last few feet.

In the secondary feature of the night two horses also split the $1,000 purse in the Anthony Laundry Co., stake for 17 class pacers. Wake Abbe owned by W. M. Clemons of Rome, Ga., won the first est and Rose Spencer owned by Walton and Pavey of Crawfordsville, Ind., won the replay. Wake Abbe, a bay gelding by Guy Abbe had Wilbur Ehlen in the sulky. Rose Spencer a bay mare by Worthy Spencer was driven by Boring.

In the first race of the night a 24 class pace Tallahassee came from behind to take the $300 purse. He was driven by the Delaware reinsman Wayne (Curly) Smart, and is owned by Walter J. Michaels of Bucyrus.

Doctor Hugh M. Parshall, the Urbana trainer drove Senator Stone to victory in the 23 class pace with a $400 purse.

The Adjuster pulled Bob Plaxico around the track ahead of the field in the 17 class pace. He is owned by S. R. Lewis of Cleveland. Joanis, property of Lou Wickersham led most of the way in this contest, but finished eighth.

Exhibition Games with Cub School Set Here Tonight

Special To The Star

NEWARK, July 14—Manager Nelson Burbrink's home run to deep left field with the bases filled in the seventh inning gave Marion a 6-2 victory over Newark in the second game of a doubleheader here Sunday and a clean sweep of the four game series.

Marion won the first tilt 9-2. Saturday night the Cubs captured games by 10-9 and 9-4 scores.

Tonight they will be at Lincoln park for an exhibition game with the Cub training school from Mansfield.

Hits First Pitch

Burbrink hit southpaw Bill Wollard's first pitch for the dramatic homer. There were two men out and the score was tied when Burbrink connected. It was his third hit of the game, including a double.

In the opener, he walked three times in four times up. He had two blows in four times at the plate in Saturday's inaugural. He didn't play in the second game. Bob Shuford settled the first game Saturday by hammering a home run over the right field fence in the eighth inning with two out and the score knotted 9-9.

Witowski staggered through the full nine innings to get credit for the victory.

John Batt Homers

Newark grabbed a 2-1 lead in the second game when Johnny Batt homered inside the park in the first frame with one on. But the Cubs overcame the margin with five runs in the fourth inning, taking advantage of three glaring errors by the Browns.

Jitts Lawrence went the route for Marion. A three-run rally in the top of the seventh iced the game for him. Southpaw Bert Flamini whitewashed Newark for eight full innings in the opener Sunday, but Ed Palko doubled two runs home in Newarks last time at bat to ruin his shutout.

Shuford Has Day

Shuford had a big time with the stick in this game, hammering in four runs on two solid singles and walking to force home a marker.

Mike Bernadett secured three of the four hits Newark garnered off Jim Sabens in the nightcap Sunday. He hit an inside the park homer in the first inning and singled home Newark's other tally in the third frame. He walked in his other turn at bat.

Zanesville Also Wins Twin Bill

By The Associated Press

The Zanesville Dodgers and Marion Cubs both swept Ohio State league doubleheaders Sunday to leave unchanged the four and one-half game advantage the Dodgers hold in the scrap for the loop lead.

League twin bills between Dayton and Richmond and Muncie and Springfield were rained out and doubleheaders were slated for those clubs tonight (Monday).

Zanesville beat Lima 12-0 in the afternoon and slipped by the Terriers, 7 to 6, in a night game when right fielder Don Taylor doubled in the ninth inning to score Red Lein, who had walked. Jack Maisch, Lima leftfielder, homered with two on in the fifth of the night game, and Taylor clouted for the circuit with none aboard in the second frame of the same game.

SMITTY'S 3 OUTFITS MAKE CLEAN SWEEP OF SUNDAY GAMES

Crystals Beat Independents, 21-0; All Stars Win 4-0; Maids, 7-4.

Smitty's baseball and softball outfits swept all games at Crystal Lake yesterday.

In the afternoon the Crystals had no trouble beating the Independents 21-0. Pitcher Lefty Culver led hitters with three singles and a double. His bid for a no-hitter was spoiled by Bob Lee in the sixth.

The All-Stars defeated Barnes Mfg. of Mansfield, 4-0, in the nightcap behind the one-hit pitching of Guy Lewis. The victory made the All-Stars look good for the coming district tournament, because Barnes was last year's district champ. Max Roseberry had a perfect night getting three for three.

Tonight at 8:30 the All-Stars take on Gorman Rupp, another Mansfield outfit. Sunday they will play Gorman Rupp at Mansfield. Wednesday they entertain the Wyandotte A. C.'s of Columbus and the Maids will play the Wyandotte A. C.'s girl's team in the first game starting at 7:20 p. m.

The Maids yesterday took Clyde Canning 7-4. Allce Barrett led hitting with two for three.

Marion Legion Whips Delaware Crew, 14-13

Delaware's late inning uprising was slaved off by the Marion junior Legion crew at Lincoln park Saturday afternoon, Marion winning 14-13. An estimated 150 persons attended.

Trailing 14-10 at the start of the seventh, Delaware got pitched Ed Roseberry's number nicking him for three solid hits and one run before Bill Merchant was sent in.

Merchant was wild and received faulty support, two more runs coming in before Jack Hershey was caught between third and home and Bob Bratcher fanned.

Bob Ralston was out of the lineup because of injury and Dick Thomas was not able to play because of Saturday work. Dick Rosebarry, his replacement, was the only local infielder not charged with an error. Bill Mathias was out most of the game because of a finger injury.

Both teams are scheduled to meet again this afternoon at Lincoln park in a district tournament game. Announcement of the contest was made by American Legion junior baseball chairman of the sixth district, F. D. Van Gundy.

The rest of the schedule is tentative. It is Marion at Lima Thursday night, Shelby here Saturday, Marion at Galion Sunday, Mansfield here July 23, and at Mansfield Aug. 10.

4 HURT AS STORM RIPS UP BALL PARK

By The Associated Press

EASTON, Pa., July 14—Three elderly men and a boy were injured in a violent electrical storm that slashed through eastern Pennsylvania, ripping off a grandstand roof under which 1,000 baseball fans were huddled smashing a church steeple and starting several fires.

The casualties were at Easton as last night's brief storm lifted the roof and dropped it on a refreshment stand. The injured were standing by the stand in Heil park, on Easton's south side, when the grandstand roof collapsed.

Lightning set ablaze a city warehouse in Easton's Hackett park, while a landslide blocked one of the city's approaches and floods halted traffic in numerous Easton streets.

A church steeple, struck by lightning, crashed into the main street of Sugar Notch, near Wilkes-Barre. Elsewhere in upper eastern Pennsylvania, streets were flooded and trees knocked over.

The slate-covered steeple of St. Charles Boromeo Roman Catholic church at Sugar Notch tumbled with such force that boards were hurled across the street and others embedded in the asphalt of the main street.

Inside the church, where two nuns were decorating the altar, a section of plaster collapsed and crashed to the floor. The nuns were unhurt.

lacerations and bruises. Both are reported in "fair" condition.

Bishop told Sheriff Fravel a car driven by Dr. William A. Quinn, 73, of Portsmouth, started to pass the trailer truck driven by Charles M. Heffner, of Cleveland and going south on Route 42. Mrs. Bishop's body was removed to the Beck Funeral Home here. Friends may call tonight and tomorrow evening. Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Friday from the Community Church in Ontario, the Rev. McNary, pastor, officiating with burial in the churchyard cemetery.

Mrs. Bishop, a bride of but six weeks, was born in Ravenna, O., Jan. 16, 1898. She was married on June 1, 1947 to Alva Bishop, the couple having made their home in Ontario.

Other than her husband and stepson, she leaves five children, Mrs. Charles Solinger, Mrs. Ralph Grifenstine and Mrs. Lynn Hadsell, all of Crestline; Foy Shull, Miami, Fla.; Mary Ellen Shull, at home; a brother, Lester Harsh, Galion; four sisters, Mrs. John Nicholas, Galion; Mrs. Dewey Rowan, Bloomington, Ill.; Mrs. Edward Evans, Mansfield; Mrs. Belle Sheets, Miami, Fla.; a half-brother of Trenton, N. RAILS LEAD MARKET IN GENERAL ADVANCE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 14—Rails led the stock market on another general advance today although considerable selling had to be absorbed.

Dealings slowed at intervals after one of the liveliest openings of the past several weeks. Quotations slipped here and there but plus marks of fractions to around 2 points predominated near the fourth hour. The industrial average made another new high since last August.

At tops for 1947 were Union Pacific, Sears Roebuck, American Smelting, Allied Chemical, Western Union "A," McGraw Electric (on an extra dividend) and Barnsdall Oil.

Favored most of the time were Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler (as the splitup issue made its initial appearance), Montgomery Ward, Bendix, Penn-Central Airlines, American Woolen, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake and Ohio, American Telephone, Philip Morris and Standard Oil (N.J.).

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

MARY flashed a smile at me as I left the room, and I realized thankfully that Katharine's blunt asservations had gone far toward relieving the fears brought up anew by her blunder in adding a word to the lines of her role which she had been studying for me.

But as I climbed the stairs to Dickey's penthouse studio, I felt like murmuring "How long, Oh, Lord, how long, until Harriet gets my letter and answers it by telephone?"

I gave my own special knock on Dicky's door, and he called "Come in," as he always does to me when he is engaged in a piece of work.

He did not turn his head when I entered—he was absorbed, I saw, in what he was doing—and it was almost a minute before he put a question, still keeping his eyes on his drawing board. I had taken a chair where he could see me without turning his head—nothing annoys him more than for me to remain standing—and I knew that my voice would tell him where I was.

"Well," he said at last, "what is it? The bridge game?"

"That is the general idea," I replied.

"When?"

"A half hour from now."

"That's good. I can use the next half hour to very good advantage. How is Mary?"

"Except that she is very restless, I think that she is in pretty fair shape."

"What's she doing now?"

Hearing and Understanding

His eyes were still bent on his drawing board, and his fingers were busy. But I knew that he was hearing and understanding every word I spoke.

"Katherine is giving her an alcohol rub. She said that Mary would be 'under her thumb' until time for the bridge game."

"That's cheering news. What's on your vast brain?"

"Nothing," I answered, knowing from experience what his answer would be.

"Then do you mind just relaxing in that chair and waiting till I finish this bit? I like to know you're around. There's a book around somewhere."

"I don't want one," I told him. "I'm glad enough just to loaf and invite my soul."

"Just so you send your soul packing when I get through here, invite yours and a lot of companions," he said. "I'm going to feel anything but spiritual when I finish this bit."

"Get to work!" I told him unfeelingly. "I want to think."

"What with?" he retorted, chortled, lifted his head and winked at me, then went back to his work, while I settled into my chair.

Rested Gloriously

I closed my eyes, rested gloriously, deliberately shutting my worry about Mary out of my mind and reveling in the peace and quiet of Dicky's studio.

And then, it seemed only a minute later, Dicky's tender, compelling fingers were on my wrist, and his voice was saying gaily:

"Wake up, Sleepyhead! Time for the bridge game!"

"Oh, I'm sorry!" I stammered, But he shut off further words with one of his "out of the top drawer" kisses.

"What for?" he demanded, when he lifted his head. "If ever a dame needed sleep, you do. Glad you could catch a little bit. Are you all set to go back to Mary?"

"All ready," I told him, and with his hand comfortably beneath my elbow, we went out of the penthouse studio and down to our living apartment.

Katharine put her head out of the bedroom door at my knock.

Bridge Table Set Up

"In two minutes," she said, and opened the door again in a few seconds short of her schedule. We found the bridge table set up in front of Mary's easy chair, the cards upon it and chairs ready for the rest of us.

Mary was still taut—I could see that—but Katharine's ministrations had done much for her, and her voice was gay as she greeted us."

"I warn you I'm going to beat the jodhpurs offen everybody," she said, in her lovely lilting voice. "Uncle Dicky, you and I are going to be partners."

"Over my dead body," Katharine said, and I knew she was striking the right combative note that Mary needed. "Your aunt—forgive me, Madge, but it's the truth — is probably the world's worst bridge player, chiefly because she doesn't care a tinker's dam—or any other kind—about the game. I am a little better, but not much, while you and your uncle are almost professionals. You'll play against each other, and your aunt and I will toddle along."

Mary's eyes lighted, and I knew Katharine's ruse had worked.

"It'll be good to take you over, Uncle Dicky," she said. "I'm going to stand you in a corner with your face to the wall. Just watch me!"
